The Year in Review

Stacey -
Well girl we've come a long way. I think we made the right choice coming back to HNH. Now we're Seniors, and we worked hard to get to the top. The best has arrived! Good luck next year!

Love,
Angie Le Jour

To Stacy
It has been a great year and I'm so happy to have you back here at HNH once again. You are a very special sweet, nice young lady! Remember when ever you need someone to talk to you can always turn here. Good luck next year as a Senior = Love ya always

Hey Stacy.
Thought I'd be different and write in the middle of the book. Well I'm happy you decided to come back to this pink prison (cause I'm not a big fan of this place) no I'm a better person. Have lots of fun over the summer and don't be a stranger. Take care,
Whats up homegirl
How's the life at HNH with you? Well it was kind of a bore in 85 but 86 is going to be fun. I know its been my 1st year but I know I've got to know many people and you were one and I'm glad to know you. You're my friend
I love you
(Heart)

Stacy,
What's up my senior friend
I'm glad we became friends this year
You're a real sweet person who I enjoy talking to. Hope u have a nice summer and don't let being a Senior go 2 your head it's easy
LOVE,
Lisa

1985 ECHOES
HOLY NAMES HIGH SCHOOL
OAKLAND, CA.
VOLUME 34

Who's teaching Advanced Math this year?" "I can't handle History at G." "I wish I had a free at A!" "Have you seen . . . ?" So returning students welcomed each other back to school on August 29, 1984. Standing in what appeared to be endlessly long lines didn't seem as bad when there was someone to talk to. Smart people enlisted a friend or relative to aid in hauling books from Student Center to locker.

Freshman Orientation differed only slightly from the registration scene. The day began in the auditorium with a fashion show featuring the Vogue ways to wear the uniform. Frosh then received a tour of the school, with special attention paid to such areas as the teacher's room and Sr Kathleen's office. On to the back campus for such "getting to know each other" activities as the lap sit, followed by a picnic including hotdogs and chips. Finally, the class of '88 were released to buy their books. Any observer would have thought these young ladies had known each other for years instead of only a few hours.

Elbow to head, Terry Prior and Ming Mai Hoang, '88 get better acquainted at Freshmen orientation. The class of 88 "got closer" on the back campus during frosh orientation.

Summer's Over

Joanne McKenna & Kristie Wollitz '86 welcome each other back after a restful but short summer.
Little sister, Monique Morris, '88 and big sister Estelle Clemons, '86 promise one another sisterly support for the ups and downs of the coming year.
Anticipating carrying all those books, Stacey Harmon '86, Liz '87, and Sarah '88 Varela, stand in endless lines during registration.

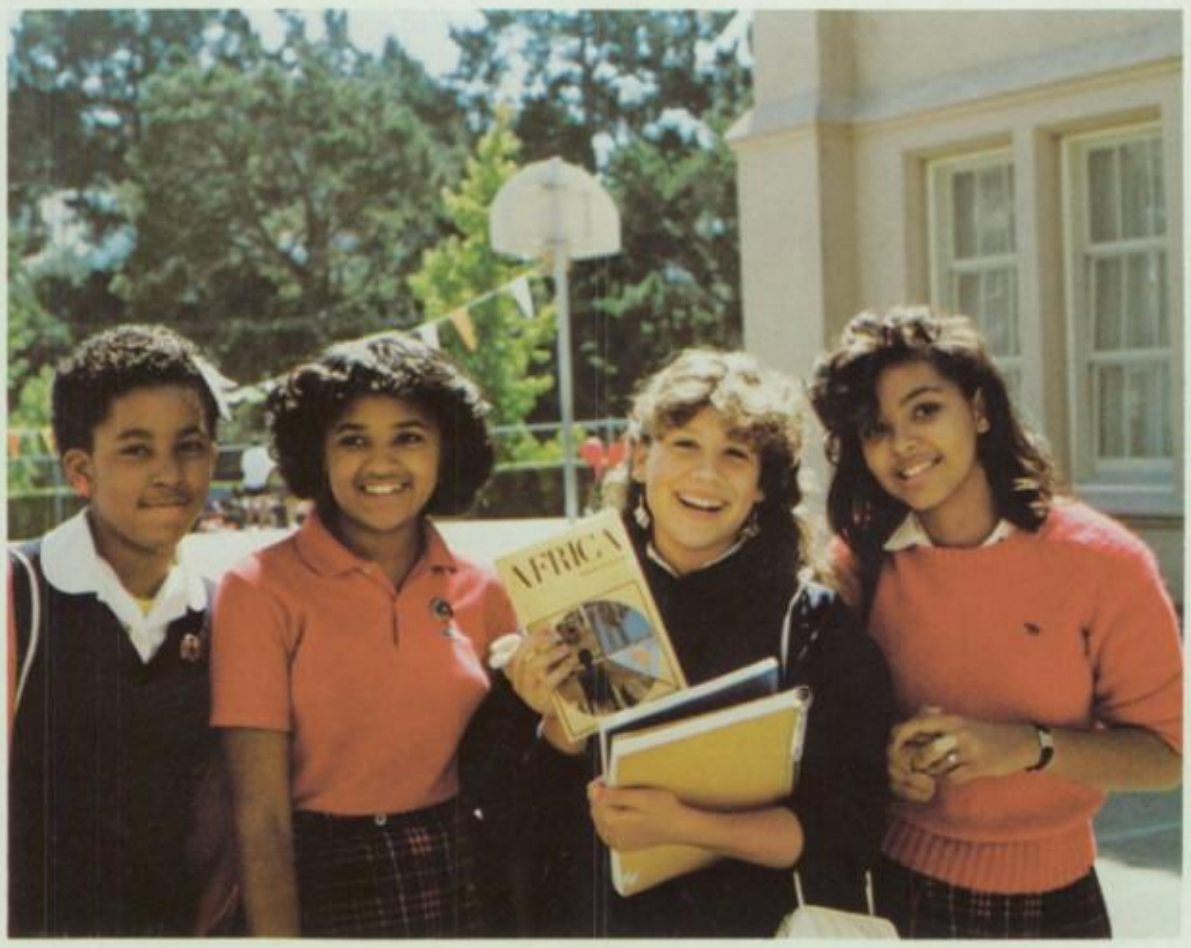
FIRST DAZE

Getting into the Groove
(Slowly But Surely)

Getting to know one another, Pasha Durant, '88, and Jamie Reed-Sutton, '86, stop to smile at the camera. Angela Ysunza, '86, takes a break in the ever-bustling Student Body Office. Carolyn, LaWana, LaTonya, Estelle, Carma, Tracey, Marcie, Desiree, and Lori—all members of the class of '86—pose proudly in their plaids.

To Carma Marcii Chaka

Running around frantically before school, trying to locate lost schedules and remember forgotten combinations was the scene during the first few days of school. Freshmen pondered over the schedule, feeling sure they'd never be able to figure it out. Sophomores, having a year's experience, eagerly aided the lost frosh. Juniors, upperclassmen at last, discovered with dismay, that being an upperclassman meant carrying that heavy history book! And, of course, that highly contagious disease, senioritis, had already infected some of the members of the class of '85!!!



These hotdogs are made of WHAT!?
take a lunch break. Our new accounting teacher, Ms. Moodie and a freshman Gabriella Rigg show their Spirit. Malinda Bell, Yael Woods, Pasha Durant, and Michelle Starks salute Mr. Schwerin's Global Studies class.

FOR SURE !

To Stacy,
Well, we made it through our Junior year. We're finally "BIG SENIORS"!
I'm glad we were able to become a little closer this year, and hopefully next year, we'll become closer. Have a really good summer, and stay sweet.

Dancin' in the Heat

The Welcome Dance

Latonya Hill, '86 has stars in her eyes . . . over whom? Kristi Rogers, '87, discusses the guys, while D.J. B-Boys provide the atmosphere for Darcell Purifoy, '88, and partner.

Sizzle, Sizzle, Sizzle

In a packed cafeteria at Merritt College Students SMURFED and JAMMED to the tunes of PRINCE and RUN D.M.C. Broken down air conditioners made this dance memorable-notorious—But the real reward was the profit: $1,280.67!!

Michelle Meehan, '88, appears in love!
Leslie Wyatt, '85, jams to the beat.
Desiree Johnson, '86, exchanges the latest news. It must be good!

Fueling Up

Monica Focha, '86, smiles for the camera while Kathi Davis, '87, anticipates a hot date with her boyfriend. Joanne McKenna, '86, enjoys the lunch that her mommy made for her. Mai Hoang, Soran Varela, and Judy Bulgo, '88, group together for lunch by the Senior courts.

Question: What block is an energy saver?

Answer: Lunch!

Heather Weatherford and Danielle Icay, '88, enjoy the convenience of the lunch truck. "But wait, my nails are still wet," declares Charmain Williams, '85, as she and her friends Andrece Housely, Ingrid Byias, Ronnie Thigpen, and Mary Ann Tyler pose for the camera during lunch. "Oh my gosh! The cup didn't come out and my coke washed down the drain!" exclaims Tanya Cagnolatti, '85, an unfortunate victim.

Class dismissed LUNCH-a time used in many ways at Holy Names. French Club, C.S.F. and N.H.S. meetings kept many students occupied during lunch. Others chose to battle it out at the lunch truck, not always a rewarding experience. The off campus privilege was enjoyed by the seniors and coveted by the underclassmen. Some students used lunch break for last-minute assignments. The word "lunch" meant many things, depending on how you used it.

Spirited Are We

Tromping, marching, running, scuffling, and even driving came the students and faculty to the traditional Mass of the Holy Spirit at St. Theresa Church on September 20, 1984. We were all eager to join together in asking God to be with us and help us in our goal to "soar to new heighths." Monsignor Moran gave us the confidence that our goal was attainable if we used the gifts God gave us. Everybody joined in the act of worship, some participating more by taking actual roles in the liturgical service. Students processed up the aisle carrying symbols that represented student life and student aspirations. Things like violins, a basketball, yearbook, and paper kites covered the altar. The congregation sat and stood at almost the right times, singing and responding to the cues of Ms. Navarrete and Monsignor Moran. Students prayed together for strength and help, remembering the needs of the world, their families, teachers, friends, and themselves.

Sandra Vergil, '86, seriously concentrates on Monsignor's homily at our first Mass of the year.
Patsy Soon, '87, bows her head in prayer.
Christiana Pasion, '86, petitions for something we all hope for . . . an exciting year!

Kileah Mullins, '86, and Kristi Rogers, '87, fiddle their way to glory.
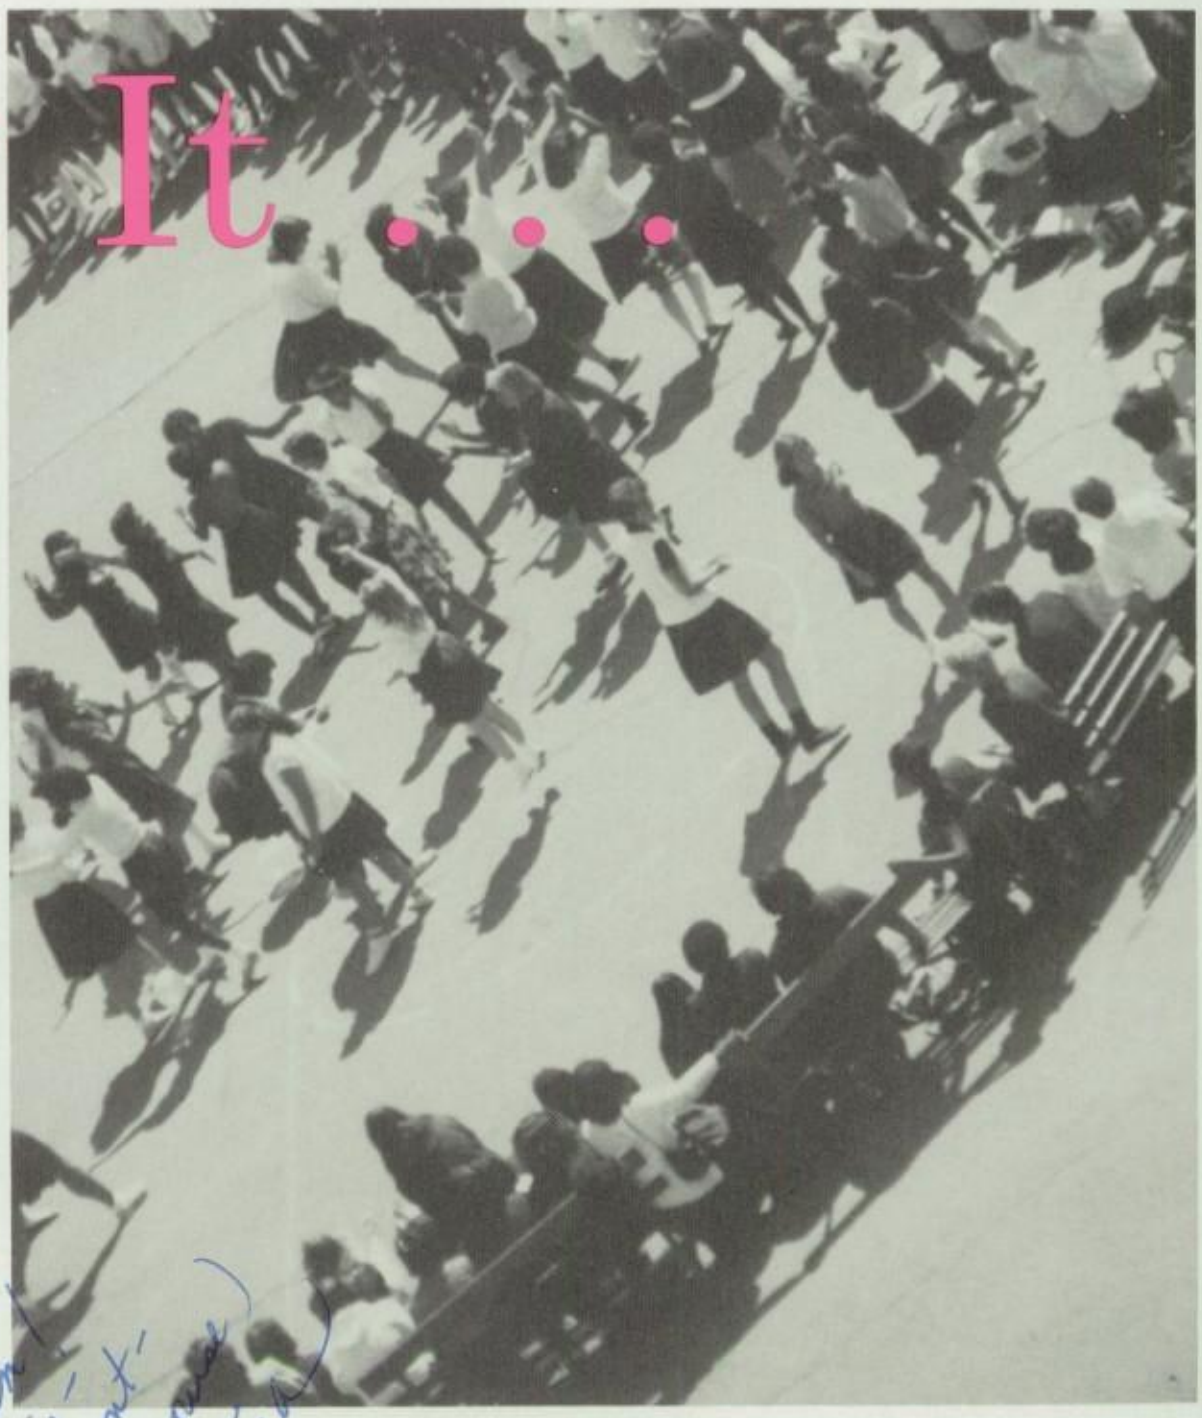
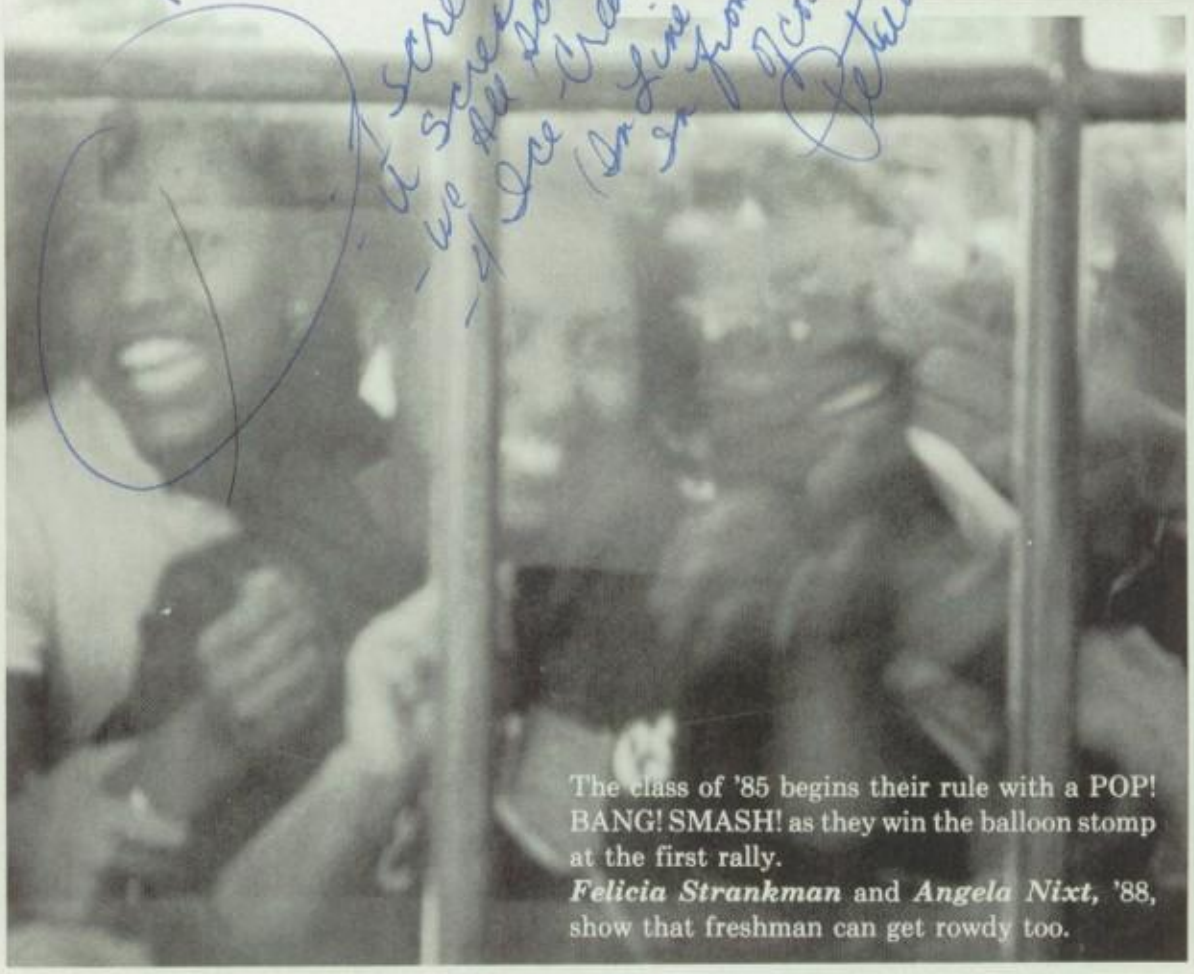
Robin Braga, '85 and Alisa Burton, '85, intensely await the next note from Ms. Navarrete. Shelley Braga, '87, shows her patience as she tries to get the kite to stay on the poster. Carla (aka "the Kite") Kelly, '85, learns that she needs the help of others to fly.

Getting It Together

Doing It . . .





The class of '85 begins their rule with a POP! BANG! SMASH! as they win the balloon stomp at the first rally.
Felicia Strankman and Angela Nixt, '88, show that freshman can get rowdy too.

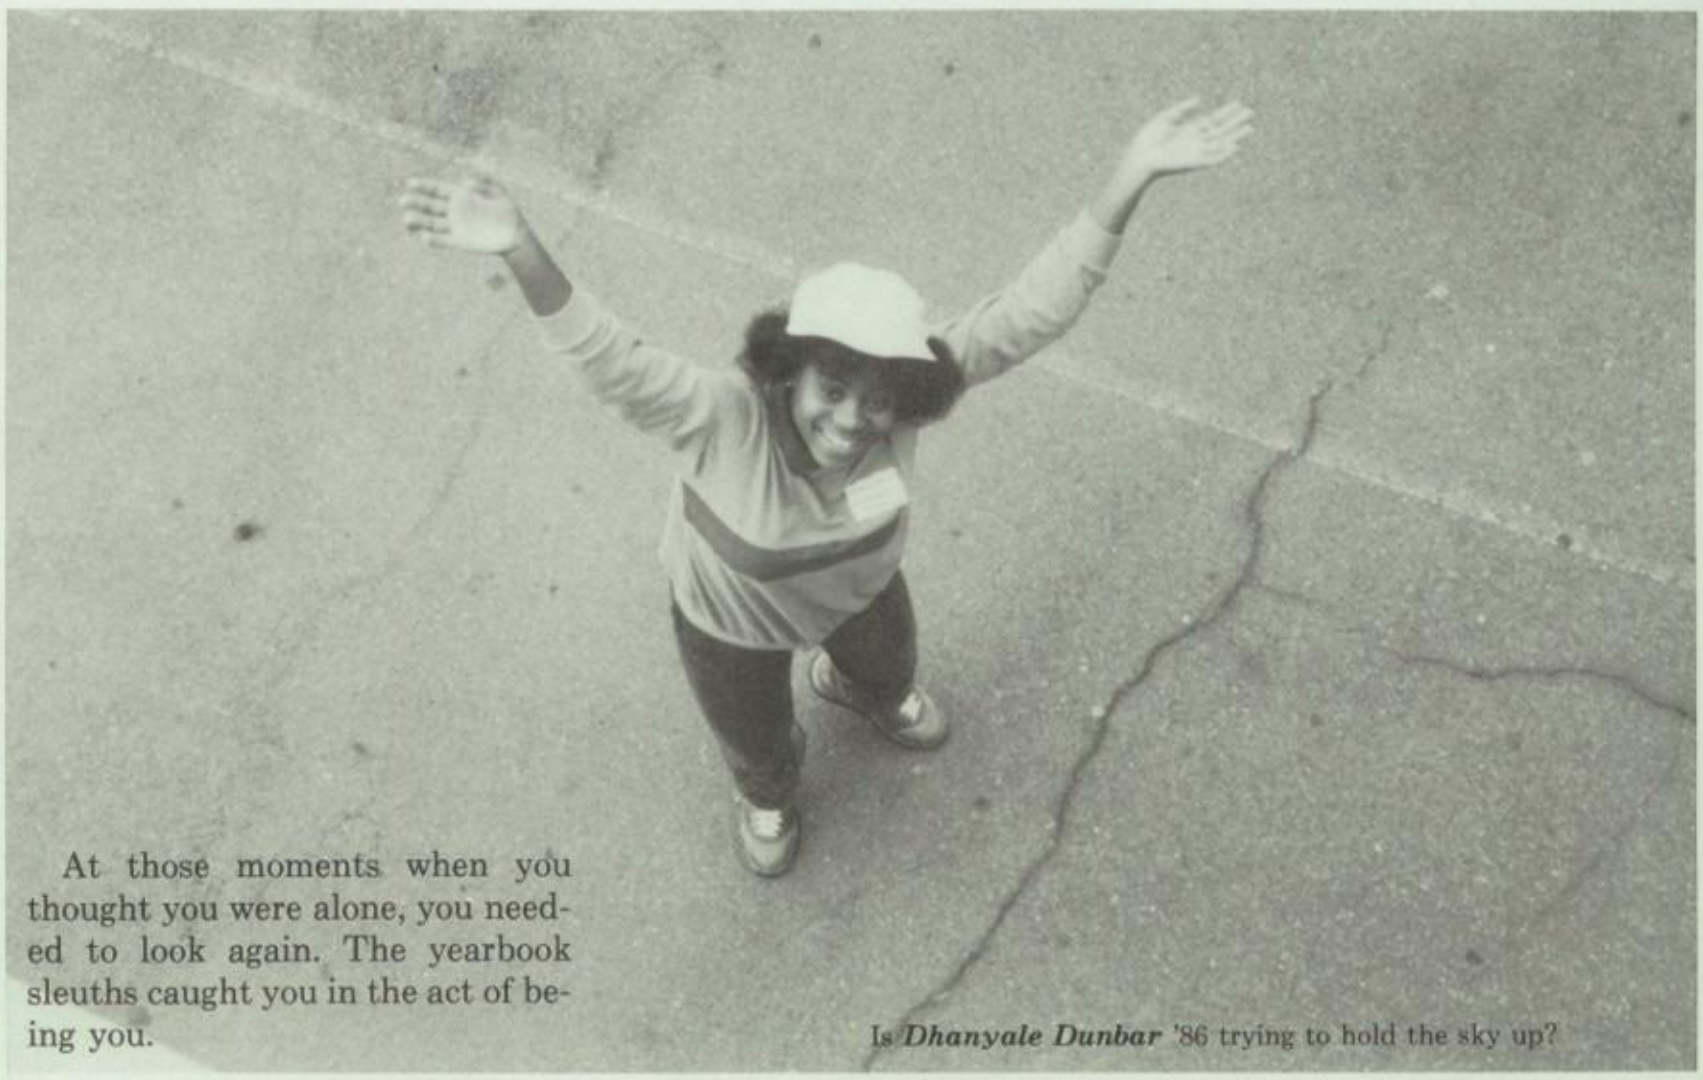
The student body happily waves as Lauri Wong, '86 clicks pictures from the top of the building at the rally.
Suzanne Chiarenza, '85, quickly scoops ice cream to keep her customers happy.

The freshman can't hold back their excitement during the rally and go absolutely crazy!

Hey crowd, introduce yourselves," screamed Carla Kelly, Spirit Commissioner as she opened the Welcome Rally on the back campus at H.N.H. on September 13, 1984. The crowd responded, seniors, juniors, sophomores, and even freshmen cheering enthusiastically while the balloon stomp kept students hopping. Bangs and screams merged as the stompers from each class challenged their opponents with agressive attempts to pop their balloons. Talk about walking on eggs! This took more skill. Said Tracy Apodaca, '87, "I just concentrated on not getting myself stomped!" The rally ended in a BANG! with everyone headed for lunch on a hot back campus, wishing the September 11, Ice Cream Social could happen again.

Cheers, Stomps, and Slurps.

You're on Candid Camera



At those moments when you thought you were alone, you needed to look again. The yearbook sleuths caught you in the act of being you.

Is Dhanyale Dunbar '86 trying to hold the sky up?

Tanya Brauer '88 seems to be asking the photographer the question, "How can I smile and eat at the same time?" Jody Alexander '86 contemplates her spilled Pepsi. "Yes, Jody, Did you want to say something?"

Presenting

SENIORS

The Class of '85 pulled it off with enthusiasm and originality. Seniors were easily spotted at lunch, carrying colorful, plastic lunch boxes decorated with such heroes as the Gremlins, Snoopy, the Cabbage Patch Kids, and even He-Man. Their musical abilities were displayed through the Senior Kazoo Band. They mastered such songs as tbe theme from "Flintstones," "Tequilla," "Glamorous Life," and "Holy Names Forever." Forging a path for others to follow, The Class of '85 definitely left their mark at H.N.H.

Did Alberta Cashen, Andrea Bird, and Michele Sanders overhear Eugena Gordon's comment to Dietric Taliferro?
Was it that funny, Carla Bracciotti, that made you share with us your winning smile?

Let's Go Crazy!

The seniors arose, went forth, and conquered their final year at Holy Names with their gleaming mascot, the unicorn, their class colors, burgundy and white, and their flower, the white carnation. They showed their unity while singing their class song "Times of Change," (written by Nikki Bias, a former classmate.) at their graduation on June 13, 1985, at 8:00 p.m.

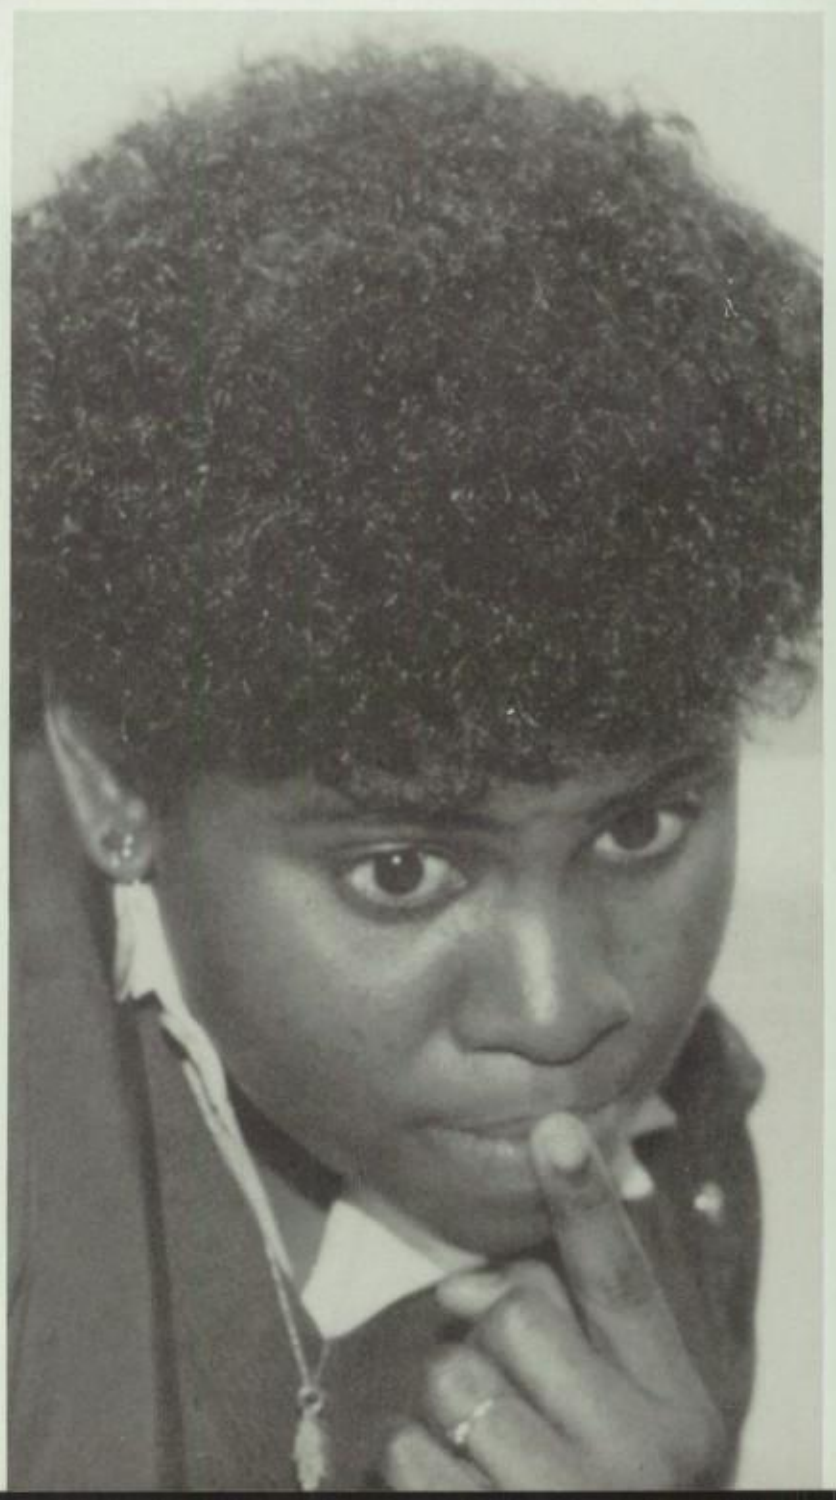
THE SENIOR THING

Carole Gordon, Andrece Housley, Veronica Thigpen show off their right to park on Morpeth Drive. Senior Class President, Dietric Taliaferro, Eugena Gordon, and Dolores Blackman show their supremacy while informing the Student Body of the 1984-85 Senior Privileges. Exercising the right to decide, Donzell Dean comtemplates whether to cruise down to Wendy's or stay on campus and study for a big English exam.



PRIVILEGES

Sitting in the cafeteria, Sharon Davis and Cypress Hale-Molfino anticipate pouncing on an underclassman trying to invade their turf . . . the window tables. Dana Rollins and Andrece Housley enjoy their break by taking advantage of the "Senior Benches". Betsy Beles jumps at the chance to have a short chat on the "Senior Phone."

On Tuesday, October 2, 1984, to the tune of "Tequilla" (played in the background by the Senior Kazoo Band) Dietric Taliaferro announced to the student body the senior privileges: 1. Seniors have off-campus every day. 2. Senior Cut Day is on the day of the Senior Ball. 3. Seniors have free dress every Friday. 4. Seniors have exclusive use of the second floor phone. 5. Seniors have access to the benches by the fence and tables by the windows for the first ten minutes of lunch. 6. Seniors, only, may park on Morpeth. 7. Seniors may eat lunch in the Student Center on rainy days. Dietric ended her proclamation by saying "If you don't follow these privileges, you are sure to hear; "da-da-da-da, da da da da da da da (translation: the funeral dirge on the Kazoo!)

Spotlighted, highlighted, noticed, appreciated. That's the way it was for the '85 seniors, the "older sisters" of the H.N.H. Student Body. Each senior was special in her own way. Sometimes that way was obvious, like bright red or brilliant yellow. Other times, it was subtle, like soft lavender and gentle grey. Always though, the seniors' ways added color and warmth to the school family. Each deserved to take a bow and bask in the spotlight after four years that were very well done.

Like Atlas, Duffy Robertson holds up the world on her shoulders. 2. Mary Ann Tyler rebs up the Student Body for a cheer. 3. Carla Kelly, Julie Kendall, Suzanne Bontempo and Deanne O'Berto are faithful members of the Gremlin fan club. 4. Dana Rollins and Shawna Reed look as if they've seen a ghost. Could it be the "Spirit of Holy Names?" 5. Alisa Burton tests her visual memory. 6. Karen Reynolds and Lisa Hawkins help the Dean of Students to be Dean. 7. Wilma Rodeen caught in the act of keeping up her 4.0 average.

SENIOR FANCIES AND FADS

The class of '85 Kazoo'd their way into the ranks of seniors in their typical awesome style. They returned from their summer vacations sporting new hair-do's, (punk or prep) new styles of dress (despite the uniform), new jobs (inspite of tbe home-work), new boyfriends, new modes of transportation and most importantly, new energy and spirit. They shared this energy and enthusiasm with everyone in the school, giving the year that special class of '85 touch: ORIGINALITY!!!

Exuberent seniors cheer their privileges. Tammie Reeves toasts the photographer.

Tonya Cameron practices her lip exercises in preparation for the kazoo.

Rosanna Messina has a secret, "Who is he?"

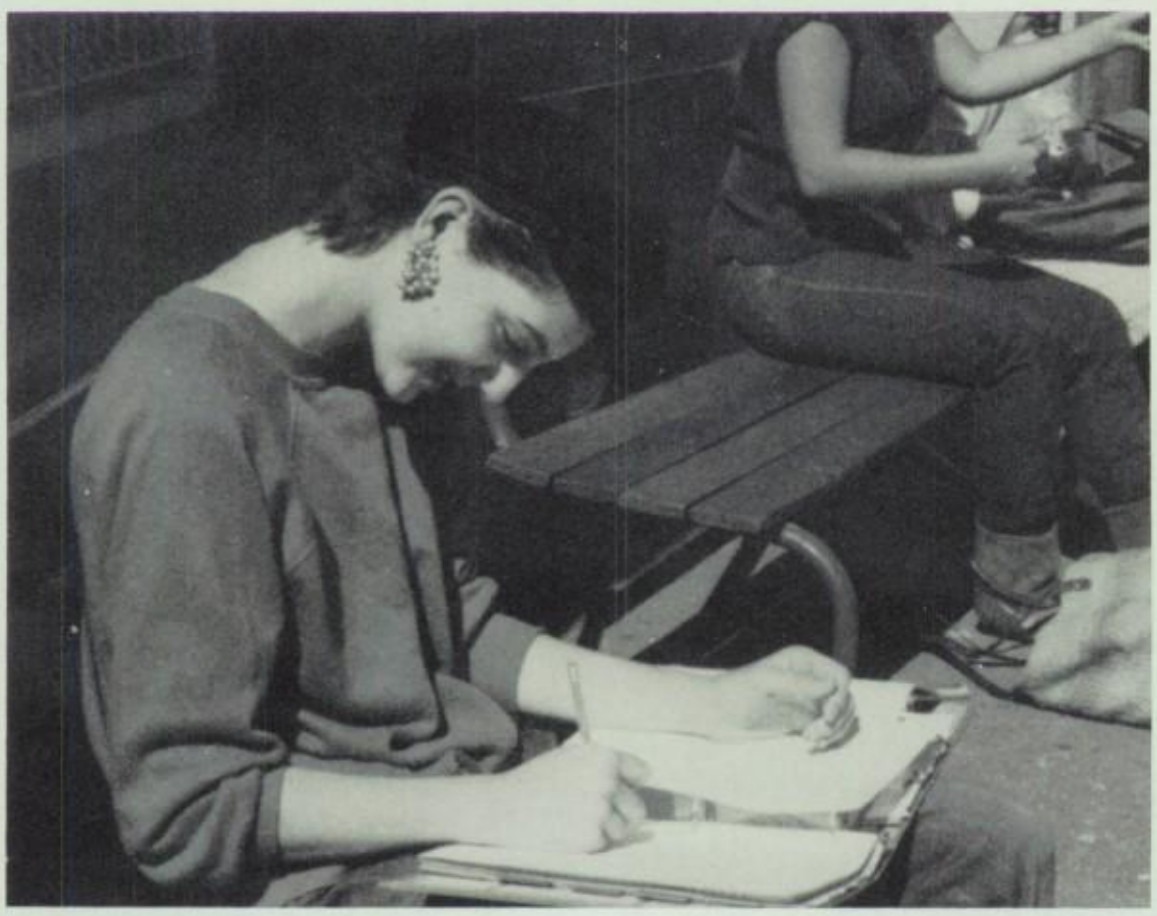
ACADEMICS



Learning and teaching have always been an upward and inward struggle. It was no different this year. Apple II did not replace the best of the learning process, the teacher student dynamic. Teachers asked. Students answered. Students asked, Teachers answered. Both searched and stretched.

Tricia Rogers and Jill Hazelhofer, '85, quickly climb the stairs from the tennis courts to beat the bell.
Michelle Hamilton, and Michelle Meehan, '88, learn about the strange situations friends can get themselves into.
Samantha Thomas, '87, frantically scribbles her homework while lunch quickly ticks away.

The Heart, The Head, The Hands

THE MASTER MINDS

The Administration

At Holy Names during the 1984-1985 school year, there was an exceptional Administration which was headed by Sister Kathryn Ondreyco. She was involved with Holy Names as a student for four years and as a faculty member for sixteen years. Sister Kathryn remained with Holy Names for so many years because she enjoyed the students and their families and the total educational process. She was also impressed with the programs and philosophy at Holy Names. As the head administrator, Sister Kathryn had many challenges. She believed that her main goal was, "to find ways to give life to members of our school community and to bring Holy Names to the larger Bay area."

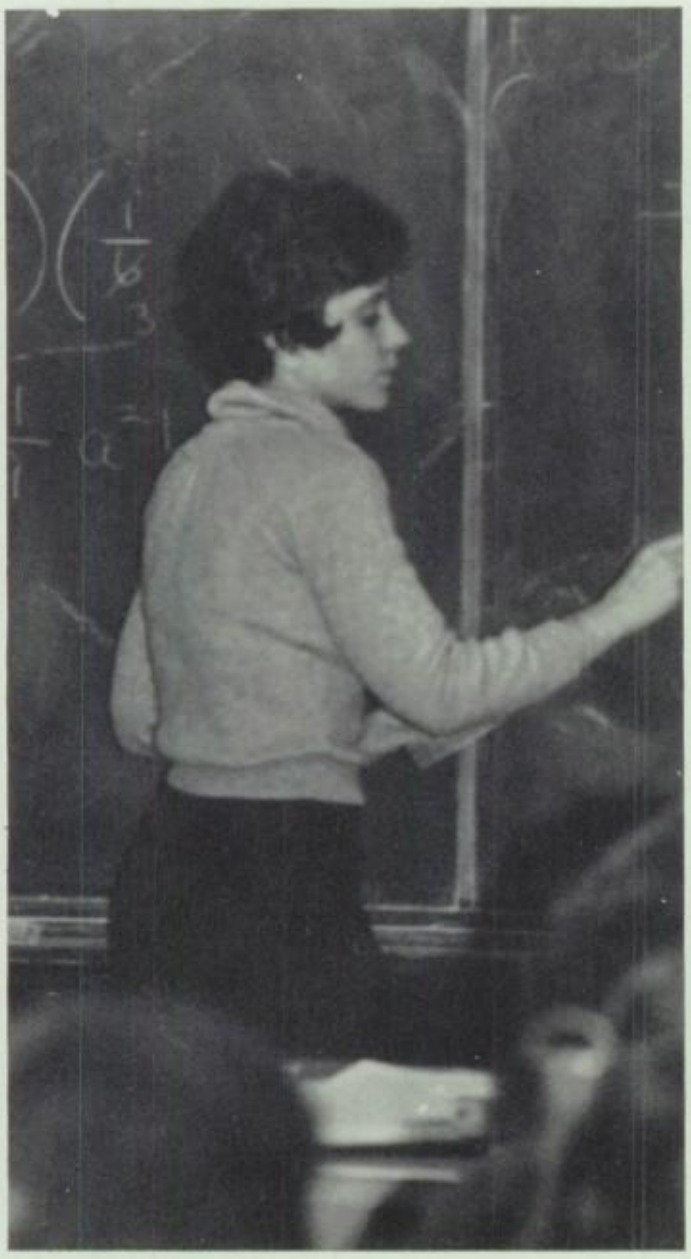
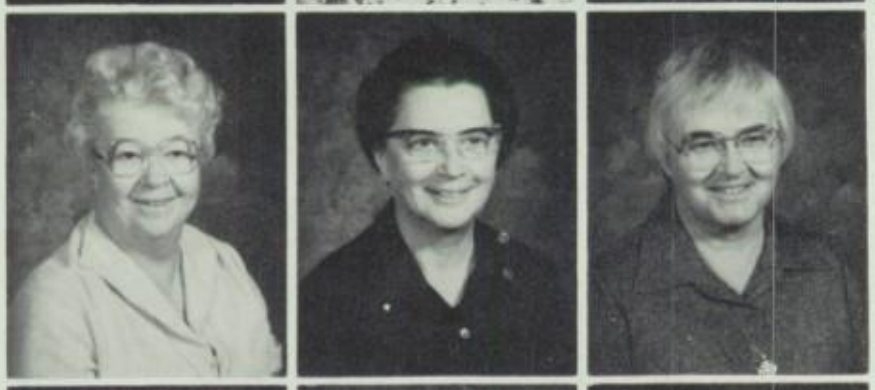
THE FACULTY



The Brain Busters

Dear Stacey,
May the year be filled with many blessings - keep that smile always,
Sister Anne

Dana Barnett, English; Linda Brownell, Mathematics; Sr. Anne Dinneen, Clothing.



Sr. Ann Dolan, Plant Manager; Sr. Mary Elizabeth, Music, Religion; Sr. David Emmanuel, World Religions.

Sr. Frances Franey, English; Sr. Paul Gerard, Dean of Studies; Bill Griffitts, Counseling.

Holy Names' teachers were some of the most powerful people in the school because they taught the rulers of tomorrow . . . the students. Through the guidance, patience, and challenge of the faculty, the students' minds were stretched for learning and thinking. Although "tomorrow's rulers" didn't always appreciate the challenge, in time, they discovered that their teachers were not only instructors and providers of wanted information but also real people . . . caring and concerned!

Ms. Brownell in her element; explaining those long, drawn-out algebraic equations. Madame Sutter a breath of Paris—even her smile is French.

More Great Minds and Faces

John Gunty, Religion, Sr. Mary Haupt, Religion; Katie Hayes, Religion.

Sr. Mary Herbert, Registrar; Maureen Jacobs, Mathematics; Allan Johnston, English.

Karen Kaufman-Walklet, Counseling; Carol Larkin, Art, Yearbook; Julie Layrac, Secretary.

A typical A.J. pose: Mr. Johnston contemplates Hamlet with English IV Honors. Terri Smallen is in a pensive mood. Mr. Griffitts is helpful and full of good cheer—as always.

Stacey-
Well, since you left me no where else to sign... I guess I have To sign in the "faculty" section.
It's been nice knowing you and I'm glad that we have become good friends. we've had some trippin' times in this pink prison: Geometry, the teacher pickin' her nose, and Remember freshman year? Religion w/ Mr. Aitchird? I am so happy that you came back because we have gotten to know each other really good. I hope that next year we can become closer 'cause you're really sweet + cute

A Focus on Mrs. Layrac

1985 marked the 14th year of Julie Layrac's service to HNH. As a top notch receptionist and person, she was one of the students' most loved and admired women. Both students and parents felt free to talk to her about almost anything because she was caring and sensitive to their needs. Indeed, her outgoing personality made a happy atmosphere out of the main office. Holy Names students came first to Mrs. Layrac. We thank you Mrs. Layrac, you made a difference in our lives!

Sr. Mary Haupt leads the Freshman class at assembly.

The department chairpeople at HNH were very much the "unsung heroes." They worked very hard in conjunction with the rest of the faculty and the administration to create the broad curriculum that made HNH what it was. Some of their duties included serving as a liaison between the administration and faculty, responsibility for the curriculum offered in each department, and meeting with department personnel monthly to take care of any business. A special thank you to the following department heads: Allan Johnston, Debbie Sutter, Sr. Anne Dinneen, Sr. Margaret Spiller, Karen Reilly, Sr. David Emmanuel, Sr. Kathleen Pillon, Theresa Smallen, Bill Griffitts, Sr. Mary Elizabeth.

Sr.Angela Louise, Piano; Tina MacKay, PE; Sr. Marion Mills, Business Office.

Dahlia Moodie, Business Counseling; Jennifer Navarrette, Music; Carol Olney, Mathematics.

Sr. Monica Perry, Librarian; Mary Jane Perryman, Spanish; Sr. Kathleen Pillon, U.S. History

The Energizers

Trick-or treat . . . Karen Kaufman-Walklet gets into the Halloween Spirit. "Expectations" is the topic of Mrs. Hayes' lecture to the class.

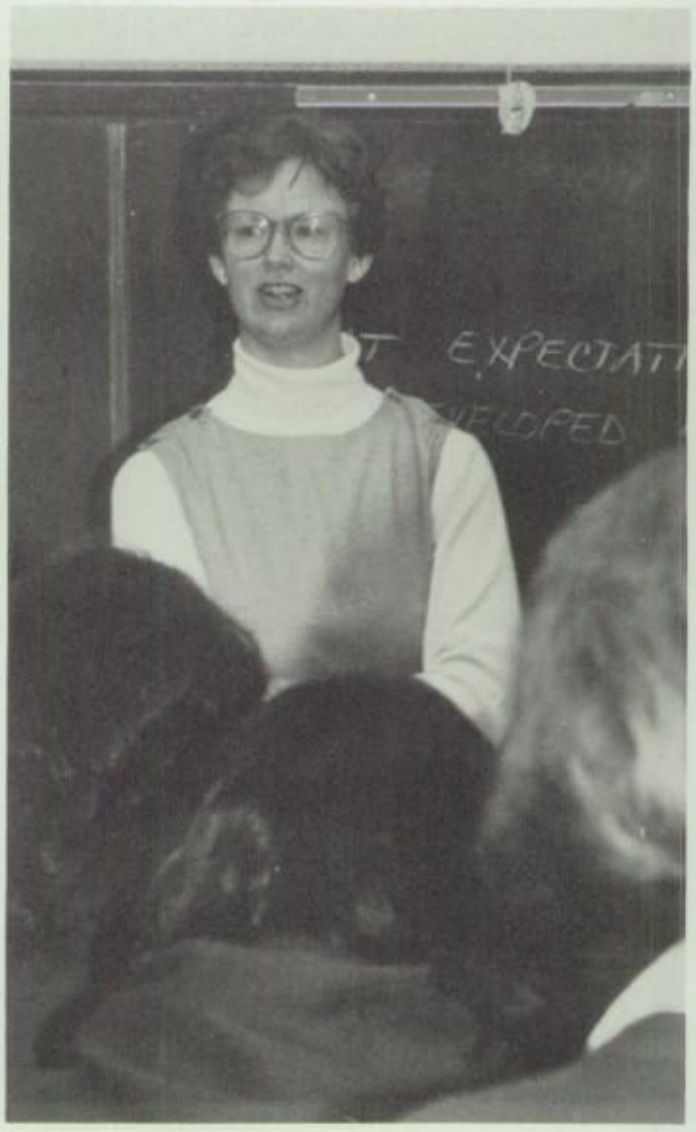
Star Performance

During Sr. Mary Elizabeth's 21 years at HNH, she saw many changes. Sister stated that today's student has "more of a spiritual dimension, acceptance of one another and concern." She taught Music and Religion, and created the Freshman Fine Arts Program. Her favorite quote was "That's the way the mop flops." We loved her style!

Maria Pruitt, Business Secretary; Sr. Grace Reeder, Core Program; Karen Reilly, PE.

Marc Schwerin, Social Studies; Terri Smallen, Core; David Sutherland, Orchestra.

Debbie Sutter, French; Lisa Tortorich, Psychology; Ron Twomey Volleyball Coach.



BRAINSTORMING
The Classroom Scene

Welcome to HNH's academic world! The '84-85 curriculum offered a variety of challenging courses. College preparatory subjects such as Physics, Chemistry, Language and Mathematics enabled college bound students to prepare for the years of higher learning. Courses prepared students by providing them with solid foundations in the basic skills, creative direction through the Arts, and bodily refinement through the P.E. department. Indeed, HNH's academic program was one of the best in the Bay Area.

Alisa Burton, '85, displays her cherished schoolbooks and a pretty smile. "What was that question again?" asks a puzzled Michelle Lun, '87.

Counseling

The Counseling program at Holy Names was unique. Each student was aided in various areas of the high school experience. Seniors received help with college planning while the underclassmen learned to adjust to the demands of rigorous high school life. All students benefited from the departments awareness of the community and learned to communicate better with both themselves and others.

Religion

Religious Studies was developed to enrich students spiritually as well as to prepare them for the future. Some classes were based on essential communication concepts, while others were strictly bible orientated. This contrast allowed students to study the writings of John in New Testament as well as go on a "trust walk" with their eyes covered exemplifing the need for trust and communication in today's society.

Drama

Holy Names and St. Mary's came together to form a fabulous drama team this year, Revival Theater Ensemble. R.T.E., headed by Tony Olivier, put on two preformances, "Done To Death" and "Man of La Mancha". R.T.E. students enjoyed their after school activities and also gained theatrical experience.

Voices

Holy Names was blessed with spirited song this year. By using the gift of music and voice, both Choir and Vocal Ensemble expressed their songs with true talent and embodied three important elements; friendship, love, and peace.

The Heart cont.

I do not know how he died, The tiffany-shaded moth on the convent column. I do not know how he lived, The short-lifed moth displayed for the public reaction. I do not know how he triumphed, The death conquering moth on that fall morning. The morning he died I saw the moth, But thought of me, my life, and eternity.

Thrilled in my Journalism class the yearbook and [illegible] me. Love Debbie Creative writing, analogies, and Shakespeare all came under the same heading-English. Those were but a few examples of the vast areas covered in this chaleng-ing subject that was demanding and enriching.

This year, the English department in conjunction with the yearbook chose to "highlight" the Freshman class. Sarah Varela and Felicia Strankman were recognized for their beautiful poems about moths. Special mentions also went to Renee Jackson, Carrie Romero and Sr. Francis.

Delicate paper thin wings of silver and black Masking surprising beauty. Orange, yellow, and green. Following her pre-destined fate, She lays her silver eggs All in perfect order. As she has lived her entire life. Her purpose on Earth fulfilled, Her time runs out.

Turning On The Grey Matter

! Spotlight !

Therese Lee was chosen as the "highlighted" student in the academic sections of Math and Science. Therese, besides understanding the concepts of 'conservation of mass' and Newtons theory of realitivity, was able to remember the quadratic formula, hyperbolas, and cosine! Good job!! Also to be mentioned were Wilma Rodeen and Sarah Messer.

The Math and Science Program at Holy Names offered a variety of classes. As three years of study were required in math and two in science, for graduation, both subjects were especially important to all students. Math students acquainted themselves with such terms as logarythyms, roots, complex and imaginary numbers while science students studied dissection and molecules. All classes provided students with a knowledgeable background necessary for graduation and beyond.

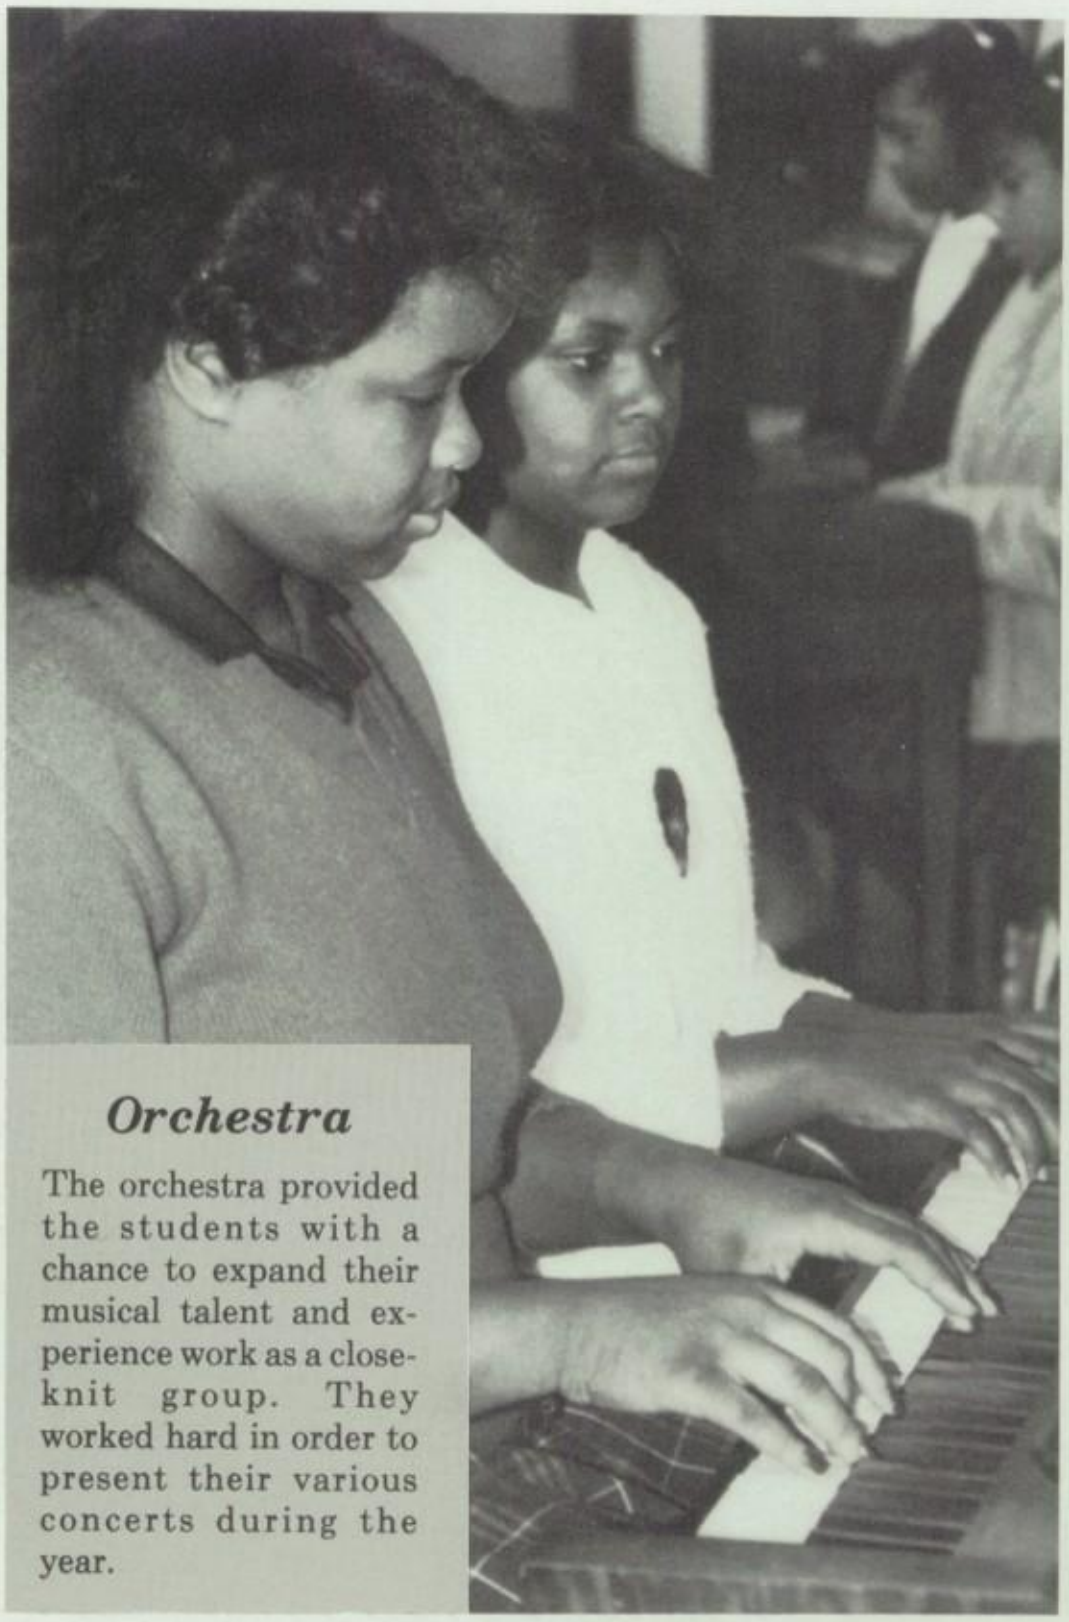
The Basic Skills Core Program has been part of our curriculum for many years. It helped students below grade level to improve their skills and adjust to regular classes.

"Conjugate," masculine, feminine, past-participle, tenses;" If you know what these terms mean, then you took a foreign language. Students were exposed to the culture, history, and literature of France and Spain. It was festive, fun and factual!

Social Studies gave us a deep understanding of the outside world. It allowed us to learn about various cultures and their histories.

Business classes allowed our students to practice their skills to the best of their ability. Many of these skills such as accounting and typing will be of great use in later years.

Pre-Requesite: Digital Dexterity



Orchestra

The orchestra provided the students with a chance to expand their musical talent and experience work as a close-knit group. They worked hard in order to present their various concerts during the year.

Clothing

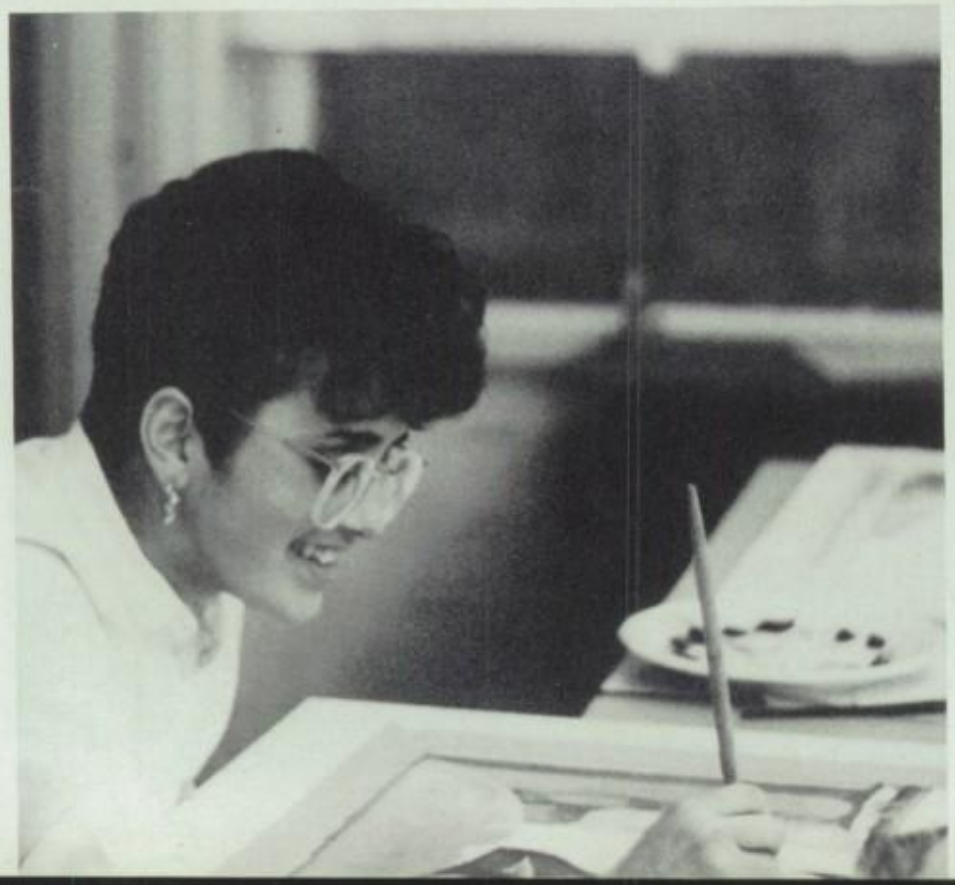
Clothing was a very creative class in which students learned to mend, taylor, and sew their own clothes. This class was especially helpful to those students seeking a career in fashion.

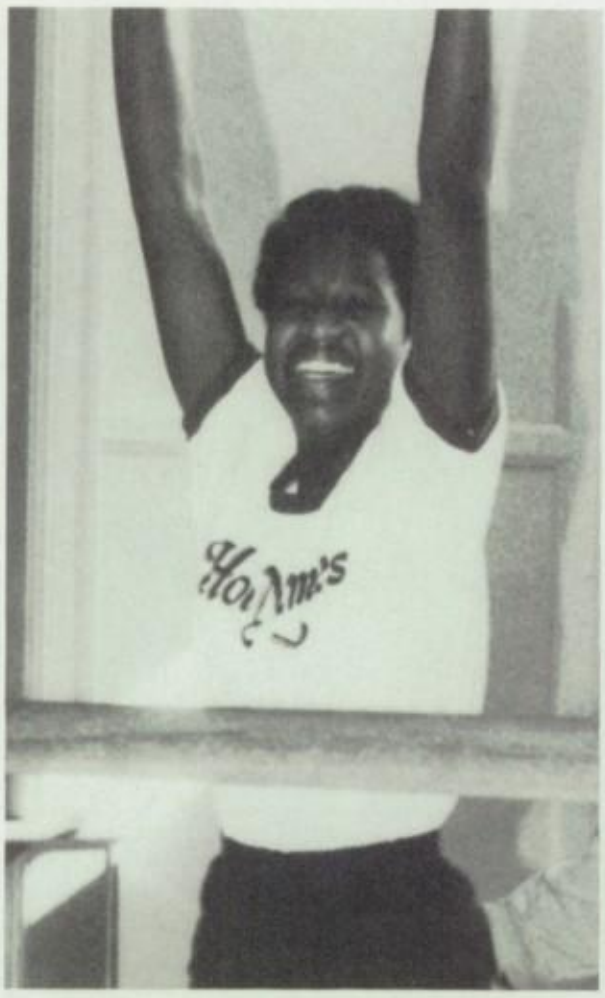
! Spotlight !

Sabra Thompson was chosen as the "highlighted" student artist this year. She did beautiful, expressive art work, and portrayed three important qualities; talent, imagination, and patience.

Art

Holy Names' art program gave students an opportunity to be creative. The works the students created left a lasting impression on us all.





Physical Education

HNH's P.E. courses allowed students to participate in a variety of sports and exercises such as volleyball, gymnastics, tennis, softball, and jazz dancing.

Computers

"Basic, Logo, Turtle" ... Do you know these terms? The small but talented computer class was aided by new "Apple" computers, links to our past, hopes for our future.

Daring to Dream

The class of 86 started the year right, proving to the rest of the school that the best was indeed yet to come! They worked hard, played hard, and enjoyed life. They dared to dream, then strove to make their dreams a reality. The Juniors accomplished a lot, both individually and as a class. Jackie Deschaine and Fatima Washington represented Salesian and St. Mary's High Schools as their Homecoming Queens. Sandra Vergil presided over the Spanish Club, and Sharon Spier,

The Class of '86 poses together. Wendy Abrams, oblivious to the camera, takes charge of the situation at hand, while Myla Branche, Andrea Watson and Stephanie Mapes put on their prettiest smiles.

And Striving to Succeed

Andrea Lui and Lisa Malvo are proud to be a part of the class of '86. Marilyn Yonko and Stacey Ford "Party Hearty"—as usual. "Just one more year," Debra Whitner dreams of being a senior. Fatima Washington explains to the students at St. Mary's what being Homecoming Queen means to her. Shelley Stewart makes an important call as nutrition ticks away.

the French Club. Turning to Sports, Angela Ysunza and Cathey Scotlan stood out at the volleyball net and Carma Carden dominated the basketball courts. As a group, the juniors excelled. Their ring ceremony was lovely. Halloween Grams, pizza nights, and other fundraisers proved to be successful and enjoyable. The year climaxed with the Junior Prom. To quote the class of 86, "And we'll be 10 times better in our senior year."

Making It Happen

'Cest la vie-Debbie Sutter takes time out to instruct Cherry Cruz, '85, the fundamentals of French. "Did I miss something?" asks Celeste Clemons, 87, as Dolores Ferrero, '86, dreams of a fantastic weekend. "Just a few more months," thinks Andrea Bird, '85, on a dismal Monday morning.

The student body of HNH certainly "made it happen"! Some people chose to be directly involved in what was happening, whether it was through student government, athletics, the newspaper, or some other activity. Others participated less directly by attending games and cheering for the teams, selling infamous World's Finest Chocolate, or actively participating in the many activities designed to make student life more enjoyable. Either way, this involvement by each and every student helped to make the 1984-85 year a unique and memorable one for all.

Involvement

Dear Stacy, I'll miss you very much next year But believe me I'll be up here to see all the time. Thank you for being such a good friend. You have helped me out especially when I needed it. Yours the best there is. Love you always, Alana L.

To New Heights

Together in Faith

Blood Drives . . . Retreats . . . Masses . . . Oxfam Fast . . . Toys for Tots . . . the Campus Ministry Team got involved in the lives of the students as well as the community. This hard working group of young ladies spent many hours planning Freshmen retreats, the Ash Wednesday liturgy, and all the other religious activities that many of us enjoyed.

"I promise, it doesn't hurt," said Carol Gabbert, the representative from the Alameda Blood Bank. She was speaking to a group of juniors and seniors about giving blood at one of the blood drives on Nov. 20, 1984, and May 3, 1985. Well, whatever she said sure worked. On these dates, many eligible 17 year olds made a trip to the student center to give their pint of blood. Thanks to all who made the blood drive so successful.

Charmain Williams, '85, goes through the process of giving blood. First, she is asked about her medical history. Then her pulse and temperature are taken. Finally, after a hemoglobin test, she is ready to give blood.

Write On-Lion's Tale

Joanne McKenna, '86, glances for a moment to see what is going on in the real world.

The masterminds of the Lion's Tale were: Sarah Messer, Marcella Wright, Jackie Deschaine, Shelly Braga, Minh Mai Hoang, Tamara Ali, Shawn Dawson, Marrianne Avila, and Moderator, Martha Hawkins.

Every Thursday at lunch in room 106, fourteen dedicated young ladies worked hard on the enchanting "Lion's Tale" and "Cub's Roar." In it's 2nd year, the "Lion's Tale" was under the editorship of Jackie Deschaine and Marcella Wright, '86. "The Cub's Roar" was edited by Sarah Messer, '86, in newsletter fashion. Each publication promoted spirit and shared the writing skills of our fellow students.

From the classroom to the "General Assembly Room"-The members of the Model UN practiced being real delegates. They spent the year researching their assigned country, Luxemburg. Then, on March 14-16, the delegates went to UC Berkeley to meet with other schools participating in the Model UN program. They enacted a UN meeting, discussing such topics as politics and security, increasing their knowledge of Luxemburg as well as other countries.

H.N.H. is miles away from France, but the French Club made the gap seem narrower. Through French movies, dinners, and other activities, the students tried, and succeeded in feeling the spirit of France. The officers were, President Sharon Spier, Vice President Julia Melancon, treasurer Tracy Holmes, and secretary Liz Varela. Said Sharon, "We want to learn about France and have a great time too!"

"Let's eat." French club President Sharon Spier and Moderator Debbie Sutter pause for lunch before the meeting. Vice President Julia Melancon shares her favorite quiche recipe. The entire French Club poses patiently in the auditorium.

Parlez vous Francais?

Oui, bien sûr! Et dois dage!

Members of the Spanish Club proudly pose for the camera on the day of their first meeting.

One of the newest clubs to join the Holy Names community was the Spanish Club. The club, whose moderater was Ms. Perryman, wasted no time making themselves known among the student body. The class-members of Spanish I, II, III, IV, and V, joined the club in such masses that H.N.H.'S latest club was also it's largest. The club was founded by Melissa Meader, La Della Brown, and Ms. Perryman. The President of the club, Sandra Vergil, said the club's goals were "To make the Spanish Club a good learning experience and at the same time, fun for everyone."

We've Got SPIRIT

The Halloween party, rallies, and of course, Spirit Week, were just a few tasks taken on by the Spirit Committee, which was established in 1981 and has worked hard to aid the Student Council ever since. This year the head of the Spirit Committee was elected by the student body and held an office on Student Council. This proved very successful. Led by Carla Kelly, '85, and consisting of members from each class, they tried to promote school spirit, bring fun into daily routine, and unite the classes.

Future actresses?! Carla Kelly, '85, and Dolores Ferrero, '86 show their spirit by performing at assembly. Mary Campbell, '86, spends her nutrition at a Spirit Committee meeting. Members of the Spirit Committee: Carla Kelly, Celeste Clemons, Cherry Cruz, Dolores Ferrero, Pasha Durant, and Darcell Purefoy take time to pose for the camera.

October 31, 1984 was not an average day. Walking down the hall, one encountered ghostbusters, crayons, fries, and other animate and inanimate characters. Even the faculty got into the act—dressed as students. A prize was given to the C Block class with the mostparticipation.Ms.Brownell's Algebra, Ms. Perryman's Spanish, and Ms. Sutter's French class eagerly claimed their donuts! Lunch—to the Student Center for a party and costume contest. After all that, no one wanted to go to F Block!

"But I don't like apples," says Mary Ann Tyler, '85, as she prepares for the plunge. Ghostbusters and flower children, Fatima Washington and Alyx Pitts, '86, pose for a picture before history class. "Yes, I am a nerd," Suzanne DeForce celebrates Halloween with as much as possible.

The Week That Lives

"It's a week of spirit, a week of fun," professed the student council, anticipating an exciting spirit week. They weren't wrong. It all began on Sunday, February 24, 1985, with a first ever carnival, winetasting, and barbeque. Classes, student, and parent organizations sponsored booths enjoyed by all. Off to a great start, unity day was Monday, with each class sporting class colors, carrying posters, cheering at the rally, and proving that they were the best. On to International Day, with various activities relating to our theme, "It's a Small World." The second annual Teddy Bear-Pancake Breakfast came Wednesday. Prizes were awarded to the best dressed teddy, and everyone enjoyed a hearty breakfast. On Thursday, we dressed formally to fit the occasion: the presentation of speeches by homecoming king candidates Ed Quinn, Paul Howard, Steven Fadelli, and James Coriston. On Friday, to celebrate Disneyland's 30th birthday, we dressed in Mickey Mouse paraphenalia. Later that evening, Steven Fadelli was crowned Homecoming King 1985. Spirit Week '85 came to a close Sunday with Powder Puff Football, won by the Juniors and enjoyed by all.

Freshmen let it all out. 6. Lorna Madison, Ericka Smith, and Mary Beth Campbell, '87, await their turn to scream. 7. Salesian cheerleaders Jackie Deschaine, Chris Parodi, and Yvonne Jensen help out. 8. Bronwyn Nichols, '86, smiles big. 9. Darcell Purefoy, '88, loves her teddy bear.

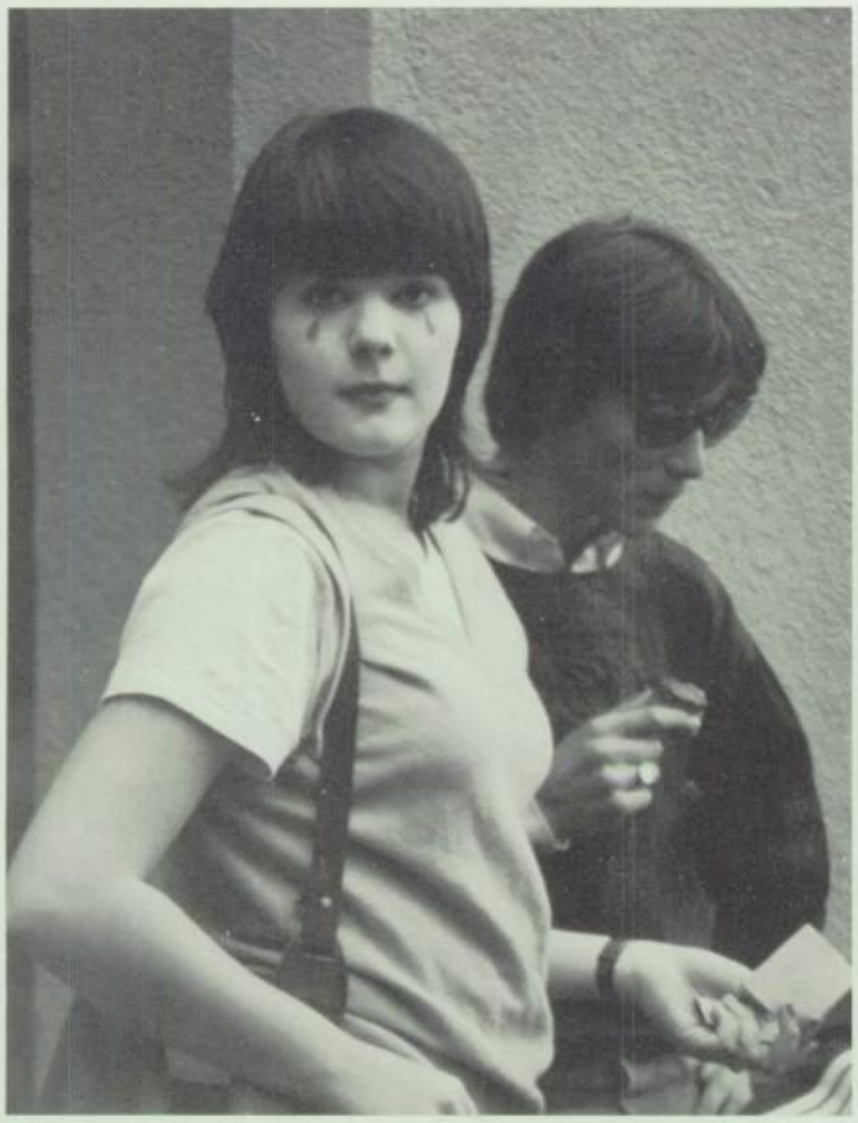
It's A

Spirit Week 1985 gave students a chance to show their enthusiasm and unity towards one another and all people in the world. Activities, which included penny jug collections for the starving of Africa, were successful, thanks to the dedication and hard work of the Student Council, the Spirit Committee and individuals who volunteered to help. Stated Donna Pennie, '85, Student Body Vice President and chairperson of the Penny Jug Committee, "I congratulate the work the committees put forth." Spirit Week was a time to remember with pride!

Suzie Chiarenza, '85, leads the rally as Tracey Apodaca, '87, oversees. Dawn Matthews, '88, raises her voice in the crowd. Sophomores cheer to a rally victory. Sharon Davis, '85, leads us through the highs and lows of "boomba hey." The class of '88 awaits their turn to cheer.



Melissa Meader, '86, takes time out at the carnival to acknowledge the camera. Gina Sullivan and Myla Branche, '86, show their spirit. " . . . and on June 14th we'll be outta here!!" shout the seniors with more than a little enthusiasm. Sarah Bosek and Michelle Meehan, '88, kick back and prepare to enjoy the rally.

Small World

WOMEN IN GOVERNMENT

The World:

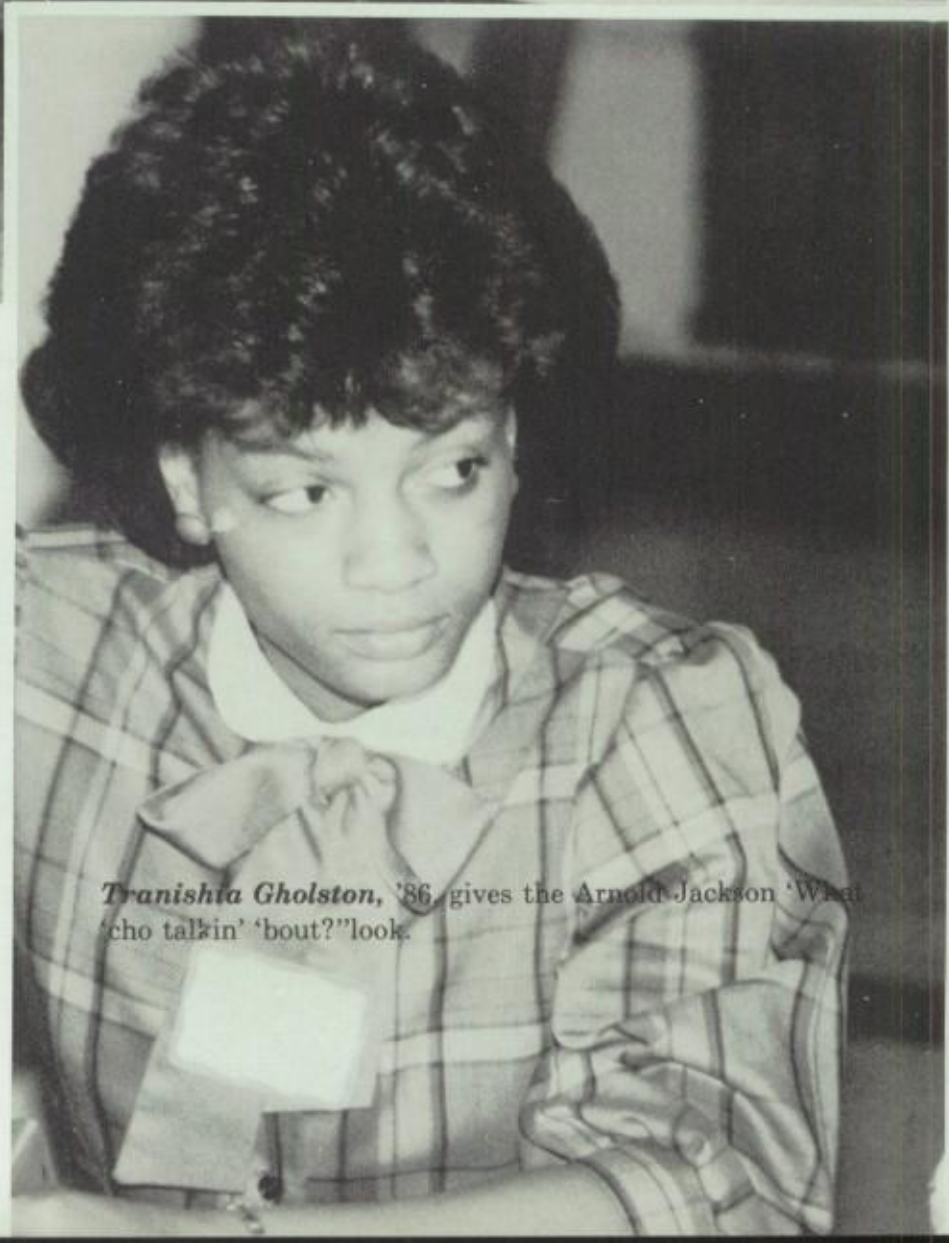
This was a year of violence for women leaders. On October 31, 1984, India's 67 year old Prime Minister Indira Gandhi was killed by her Sikh body guards. The night before, she stated, "Every drop of my blood will invigorate the nation." England's Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher escaped being killed by an Irish Republican Army bomb planted in an English hotel.

The United States:

For the first time in U.S. history, a woman ran for one of the Nation's highest political offices. Democrat Geraldine Ferraro an Italian Catholic from Queens, New York, challenged Republican George Bush for the office of Vice-President. Running on the same ticket as Walter Mondale, both were defeated by a landslide vote that put Ronald Reagan back into the White House a second time.

The entire HNH STUDENT COUNCIL assembles for another Monday afternoon meeting.

The '84-'85 Student Council included the following students: STUDENT BODY OFFICERS: Suzi Chiarenza, President; Donna Pennie, Vice-President; Angela Ysunza, Secretary; Carla Bracciotti, Treasurer; Carla Kelly, Spirit Commissioner. CLASS OFFICERS: Dietric Taliaferro; Carole Gordon; Lisa Carlund; Sally Basurto; Alberta Cashen; Lisa Hawkins; Julie Kendall; Suzanne Bontempo; Jayne Hash, ('85). Lawana Johnson; Diane Fleury; Dhanyale Dunbar; Tranishia Gholston; Marianne Avila; Stacy Harmon; Fatima Washington; Denise Cruise; Estelle Clemons; Angela Butler, ('86). Leslie Green; Elizabeth Varela; Patsy Soon: Cydia Taylor; Mary Ann Evia; Mary Beth Campbell; Latrina Dumas, ('87). Nicole Dawson; Mieke Long; Pamela Soon; Sarah Varela; Gabriella Rigg; Terri Prior; Charla Austin; Felicia Strankman and Margot Forneret, ('88). Working as a unit, the Student Council served the Holy Names' Student Body well. Meeting Mondays after school, the members worked together as representatives of their fellow students and planned activities that made '84-'85 GREAT.



Tranishia Gholston, '86, gives the Arnold Jackson 'What 'cho talkin' 'bout?'" look.

The School-HNH:

HNH's '84-'85 Student Body was led by Suzanne Chiarenza, '85, who took her office of Student Body President seriously. Her duties were not always glorious. She spent long hours planning activities that kept HNH students involved in what was going on in their school.

Suzanne was inspired by Geraldine Ferraro's bid for the Vice-Presidential office, believing that, "The future for all women leaders is an uphill battle but not one that is unattainable." Perhaps Suzi herself will become part of this struggle.

Suzanne Chiarenza, '85, attentively soaks in the happenings at a Student Council meeting. Andrea Watson, Lisa Carlund, Lisa Malvo, Estelle Clemons, Cathey Scotlan, Suzanne Bontempo, and Carma Garden fight for a space on the couch in the Student Center before a meeting.

MOCK PRESIDENTIAL DEBATE

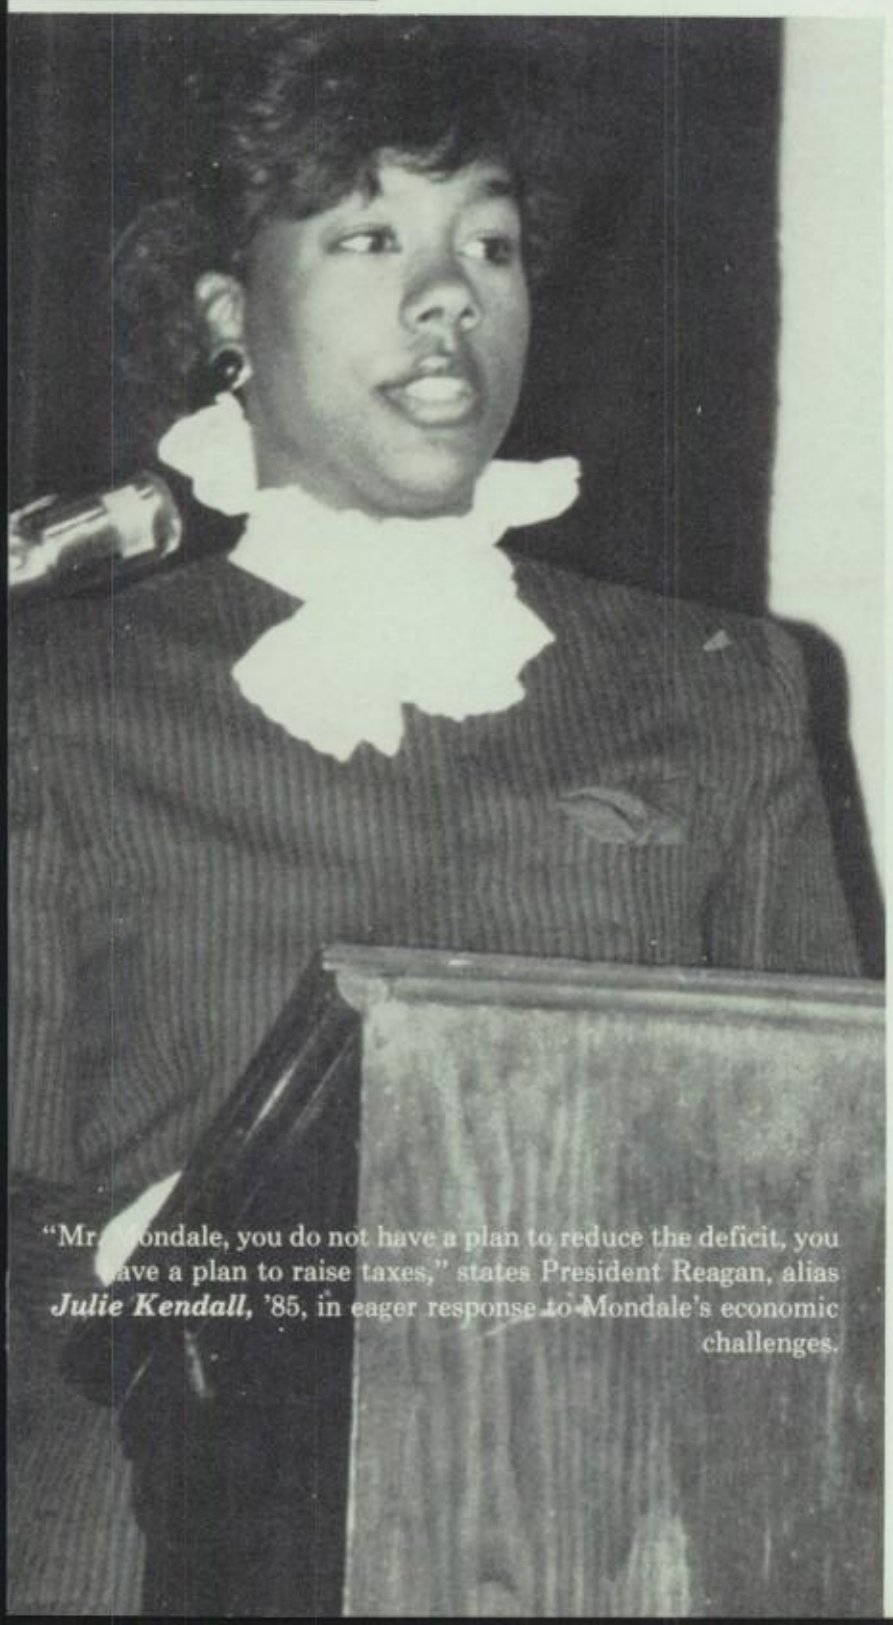
Reporter Veronica Thigpen, '85, curiously questions the Presidential candidates on some of the significant points in their platforms during the debate.

Walter "Fritz" Mondale, alias Jayne Hash, shows confidence in a victorious campaign in spite of the polling predictions.

On November 6, 1984, two HNH Government classes presented a mock Presidential debate for the student body. The format followed the televised campaign debates between President Reagan and former Vice-President Walter Mondale. HNH "candidates" were Lisa Carlund, Julie Kendall and Andrece Housley, '85 as President Reagan and Suzanne Bontempo, Jayne Hash and Tonya Latigue, '85 as Walter Mondale. Each candidate was asked questions on "his" domestic and foreign policies by a panel of four reporters (Kim Truitt, Veronica Thigpen, Jill Hazelhofer and Lisa Hawkins, '85) and had a short length of time, under the guidance of the Mistress of Ceremonies, Tammy Hill, '85, to answer these questions and give or receive rebuttals. During the debate, signs, applause and cheers filled the auditorium in spite of Tammy "Barbara Walters" Hill's requests to save applause until each candidate had finished presenting "his" statements. In closing, the candidates discussed the future of the United States. The debate ended with a vote in which each student picked the candidate of her choice. The result was an 86% victory for Mondale, which opposed Reagan's actual landslide victory.

Nancy Turner, '85, an alternate Presidential candidate, waits patiently along the sidelines with another "Fritz" Mondale, Tonya Latigue, '85, and President Reagan, Julie Kendall, '85.

Students Examine the Candidates



"Mr. Mondale, you do not have a plan to reduce the deficit, you have a plan to raise taxes," states President Reagan, alias Julie Kendall, '85, in eager response to Mondale's economic challenges.

"My name is Tammy Hill. I'd like to take this opportunity to welcome you to our 1984 Presidential Debate on this day of November sixth."

Reporters Kim Truitt, Veronica Thigpen, Jill Hazelhofer and Lisa Hawkins, '85, prepare their questions for the candidates while Tammy 'Barbara Walters" Hill encourages the audience to refrain from applauding as it "only takes away from the candidate's time."

Gifted and Spirited

Pamela and Patsy Soon try to "hang in" until nutrition. Michelle Fagerrous and Mary Beth Campbell study quietly as Michelle Lun takes notes. Diedre Simmons, also in English class, listens to her teacher's explanation of Romeo and Juliet.

The Sophomores of 1985

The class of '87 gathers in the auditorium to pose for their memorable "Group Shot." Sophomores are busy at work. Liz Varela proudly shows her class of '87 button. Judy Reyes is deep in thought. Lorna Madison and Tamika Guiton are certainly not daydreaming about Taming Of the Shrew!

This year's Sophomores came in a variety of shapes, sizes, personalities, and gifts. Each gave to the class a bit of herself and, in doing so, helped to create a unified whole. Their gift of independent thinking gave them their own kind of strength and power. As with every class, the Sophomore year had its ups and downs, challenges and victories. But in the true spirit of the Class of '87, all "hung in" making their Sophomore year a time of pride.

Team Work

In Memory of Rochelle

The Most Outstanding Freshman Athlete Award was begun by the Class of '85 and the Athletic Department in honor of Rochelle Holloway. Rochelle was a member of the J.V. volleyball, basketball, and softball teams during her freshman year. In June, 1982, she was involved in a tragic accident which left her family as well as the Holy Names' community bereft. The award began in 1984, and each year since an outstanding freshman athlete has been chosen and her name has been added to the plaque. Athletes honored included Donde Labot, '86, and Mimi Jenkins, '87. Said Tammie Reeves, '85, "She was a good friend to all and is dearly missed."

Tammie Reeves, '85, one of Rochelle's best friends, poses with the award. Alberta Cashen, '85, drives forward for another two points. With a look of terror, Lisa Malvo '86, awaits the rebound. The winner of the Outstanding Freshman Athlete Award from the class of '87-Mimi Jenkins. Rochelle Holloway will be missed for a long time to come.

VOLLEYBALL

The 1984 Holy Names Varsity Volleyball team was absolutely spectacular! Each member of the awesome team worked hard together to reach a record of 12-0 in the regular season. They conquered every school and proved that they were certainly the ones to beat. The undefeated team set out and swept through the CAL playoffs, obtaining an overall record of 12-3. The varsity's handsome season was due to the great skill and almost unending knowledge of the sport of volleyball possessed by each member of the team.

Tracey Apodaca, '87, knows who's the best. Shall we dance? Cathey Scotlan, '86, sends the ball flying over the net. Angela Ysunza, '86, checks out the competition. The HNH champs: Ron Twomey, Coach, Grace Wurst, Cathey Scotlan, Andrea Watson, Mark Apodaca, Asst. Coach, Tammie Reeves, Shellae Riffin, Tracey Apodaca, and Angela Ysunza.

HNH CHAMPS !

HNH Varsity and Junior Varsity

The JV team: Tanya Brauer, Clare Focha, Dawn Matthews, Wangmo Gellek, Angela Nixt, Carla Bracciotti, Ron Twomey (coach), Aprielle Wren, Sonja Killingsworth, Heather Weatherford, and Nicol Hutton. Tammie Reeves, '85, is congratulated by Nancy Lauth from BOD. Angela, Shellae, Tammie, Tracey, Grace, and Cathey are ready for anything. The varsity team relaxes after another hard earned and well deserved victory.

The Junior Varsity met in 1984 to work together for the first time. The team was basically made up of Freshmen, with the grand exception of Carla Bracciotti, '85. Each member spent many hours working with the coaches and one another to learn about the sport. As they became familiar with volleyball, they learned the importance of being good sportswomen. They had a trying season, but they acquired experience and proved to be very promising players for a future varsity.

HNH Hoops the Opponent

Seniors: Andrea Bird (10), Suzi Chiarenza (22), Alberta Cashen (44); Juniors: Mary Guiterrez (33), Lisa Malyo (42); Sophomores: Romia Jenkins (12), Cydia Taylor (11) and Freshmen: Fatima Ali-Daggao (24), Inez Lawson (14), and Erica Morgan (15), dribbled, passed and shot their way to glory. They did their thing with the style of real winners. They were the members of the "A Team."

The '84-'85 HNH Basketball Team was alive and willing to "cream" the world. Each member dedicated time and body to the sport, giving her all. To prove this devotion, Mimi Jenkins, '87, sacrificed a knee in the season's beginning. Her limp reminded us of her desire to win. Besides collecting trophies, the team was not just about winning. Lisa Malyo, '86 summarized the team's spirit when she stated that the team was also about helping the members as people. This attitude was part of them's great success.

1) Andrea Bird and Alberta Cashen, '85, dribble their way to a win. 2) "The A Team" (Angela Guiterrez and Cydia Taylor not pictured.) 3) Mary Campbell, and Lisa Malyo, '86, and Suzi Chiarenza, '85, concentrate their efforts for a win. 4) Lisa Malyo, '86 struggles for possession of the ball while Carma Carden, '86, contemplates her next move. 5) Cydia Taylor, '87, runs to rescue a team mate. 6) Come on, Carma! You can make it!

The Homerun Team

Shirleen Lee, '87, is ready to fire the pitch down the middle, past the batter. Tracy Phillips, '87, awaits the homerun pitch. A comment from Jayne Hash, team captain, "HNH Softball! AWESOME! We won our last game 15 to 11, and our team has the spirit and talent to win more. An excellent defense, a powerful offense is exactly what it takes to win."

CSF Honors

PEER TUTORING SESSIONS

CSF Opens Up

The 1984-1985 California Scholarship Federation consisted of sixty-one members. The organization focused on the academic achievments of each individual. The CSF members wanted to open themselves up to the school, but how should they do this? Through Peer Tutoring, of course! Each CSF member spent many hours of their time dedicating themselves to others. This program was a beneficial advantage to both parties involved. The CSF tutor was able to see what it was like to teach a peer, and the tutee was able to get individual help. It was certainly an excellent learning experience for each person that will be carried on throughout the years to come.

Many thanks to Martha Hawkins and Wilma Rodeen, CSF's dedicated organizers, who were responsible for all the tutoring activities.

Julie Nielsen and LaDella Brown are ready to help any student. Tracy Holmes, Liz Varela, and Patsy Soon are just a few of CSF's faithful helpers.

Proud, honorable individuals at Holy Names.

Other Outstanding Individual Honors

Extra Honors

The 1984-1985 school year was a time of recognition for many gifted Seniors. Each Senior worked her hardest to achieve personal excellence reaching her set goals. A few of the most prestigious awards were the Bank of America plaques and certificates. The plaque winners were Wilma Rodeen for Mathematics and Science, and Lisa Carlund for Liberal Arts. The certificate winners were Karen DeForce, and Robin Jorden for Arts; Tammie Reeves for Business; Therese Lee for Computer Science; Nancy Turner for Home Economics; Christine Kwok for Mathematics; Tonya Cameron and Lena Trotter for Music: Julie Nielsen for Social Studies; Michelle Dawson for Spanish and Julie Kendall for Science.

Other awards were: the CHS Honorable Mention to Tonya Cameron, '85. Honors given to Mary Campbell, '86, Julie Kendall, '85, and Leslie Wyatt, '85, and Top Honors to Nancy Leard, '85. Others were: the DAR Good Citizen award given to Robin Jorden, Century III runners up, Cheryl Cruz and Lisa Carlu and the zone winner Wilma Rode '85. Also, Shawn Dawson, and Marrianne Avila, '86 represented H N H in the Lions' Speech Contest along with the winner Julia Melancon.

Accelerated Student Program

Wilma Rodeen was accepted as a member of the Accelerated High School Student Program at the University of California, at Berkeley. This was an exceptional opportunity for Wilma to attend college classes at the Berkeley campus while she attended Holy Names. Wilma received credit for these classes as well as college experience.

BITS 'N PIECES

THE GOOD OLD DAYS

As we look back on our lives and shed tears of the past,
We reminisce on how the "good old days" went by so fast.
Let us dry our eyes and start anew,
For there's ever so many things we have to do.
Instead of weeping, take a sigh for
God knows,
There's never enough time to do all these things before we die.

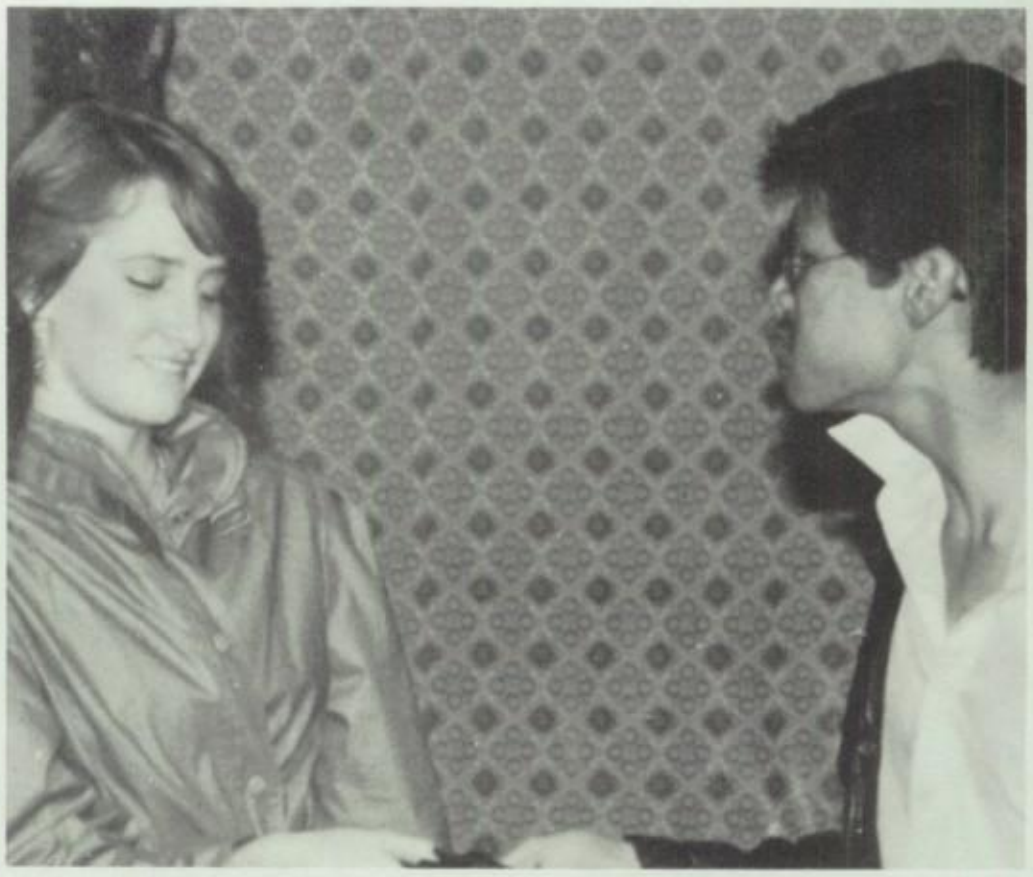
This poem was written by Tamara Ali for the first edition of the Lion's Tale.

Drama Presents



DONE TO DEATH

On December 6-8, 1984 St. Mary's and Holy Names united to perform Done To Death, written by Fred Charmichael. This group, under the direction of Antone Olivier, presented this strikingly funny mystery-comedy-spoof to a raging full house at each performance. The skilled actors and actresses spent many hours rehearsing the play and did a spectacular job presenting Done To Death.

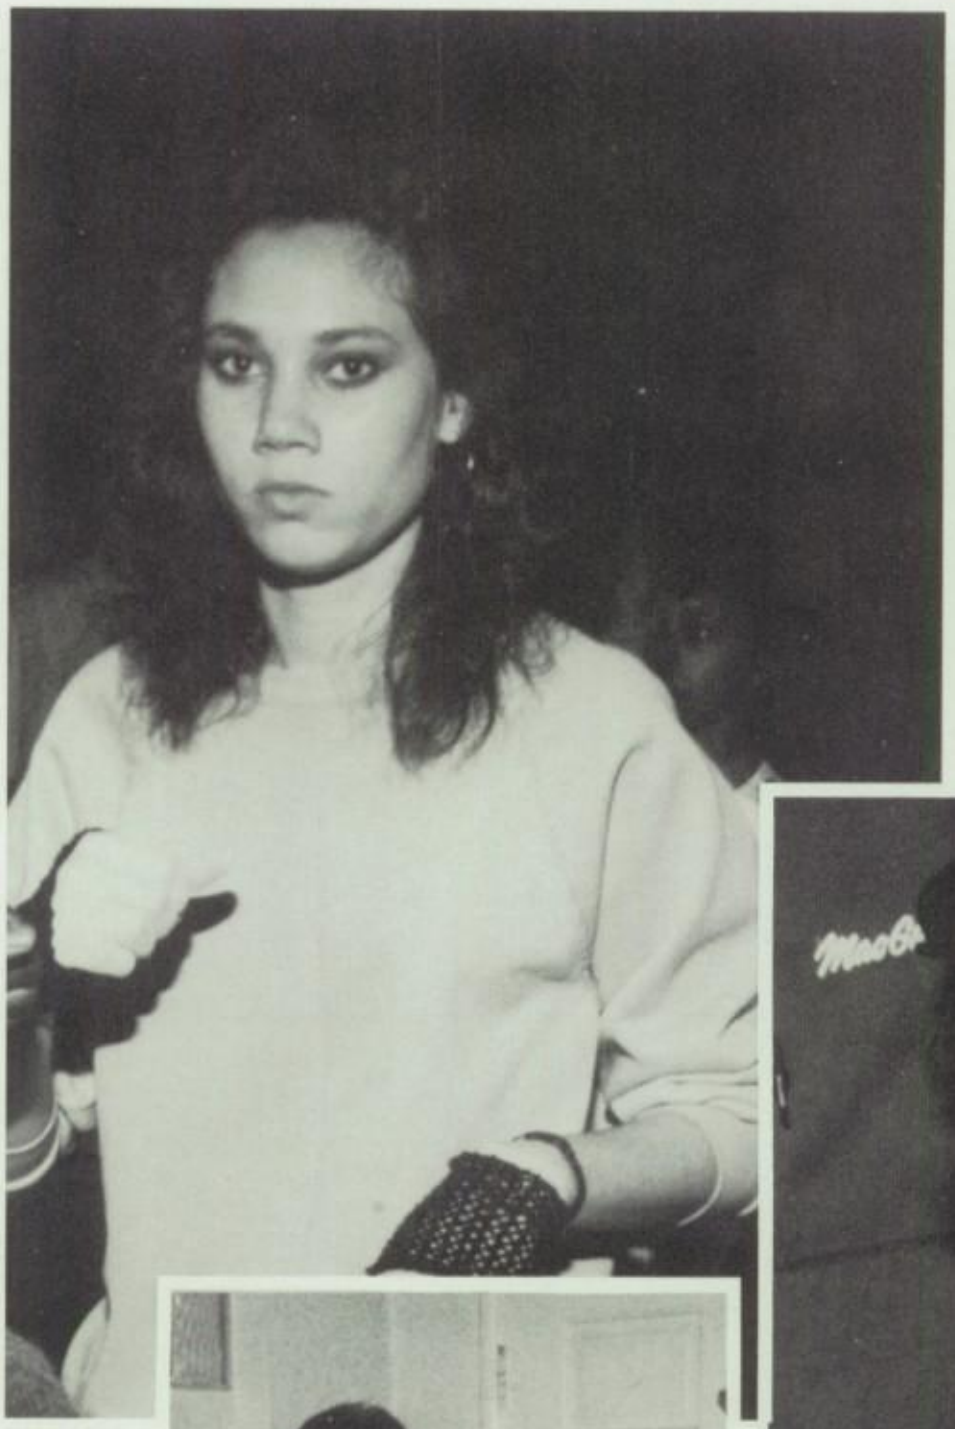
CHOIR AND VOCAL ENSEMBLE

I wonder if Diana Ross started out with, "Row, Row, Row Your Boat." Well, that's how it all began for HNH's members of Choir and Vocal Ensemble. They auditioned for entry. After making it through and in, the members delighted us all with their many performances. Some of their concerts included the HNH and Merritt Hospital Christmas Concerts, the HNH Spring Concert and several elementary school mini-concerts. The Vocal Ensemble also entered some singing competitions in which they did quite well. Both groups left a gift. The gift was beautiful music. Thanks and BRAVO!

DANCING



"Dancin" was the word and the event that got everyone "movin" to their favorite beat. The September Welcome Week Dance kicked off a series of "hot dances" that included a Sophomore Dance, a Spirit Week Dance, and the more formal dances such as the Winter Ball, the Junior Prom, and the long awaited Senior Ball

Michelle Lun, '87, and her friend have a blast at the dance. Tony Pruitt, '87, and Cecily Almon, '88, gape with awe at those on the dance floor. Adrienne Regier, '87, and Tina Phillips, '86, pose with their men. Kim Runnels, '87, dances the time away. Leigh Campbel, Felicia Thomas, and Jenell Thompson, '87, are always ready to have their pictures taken.

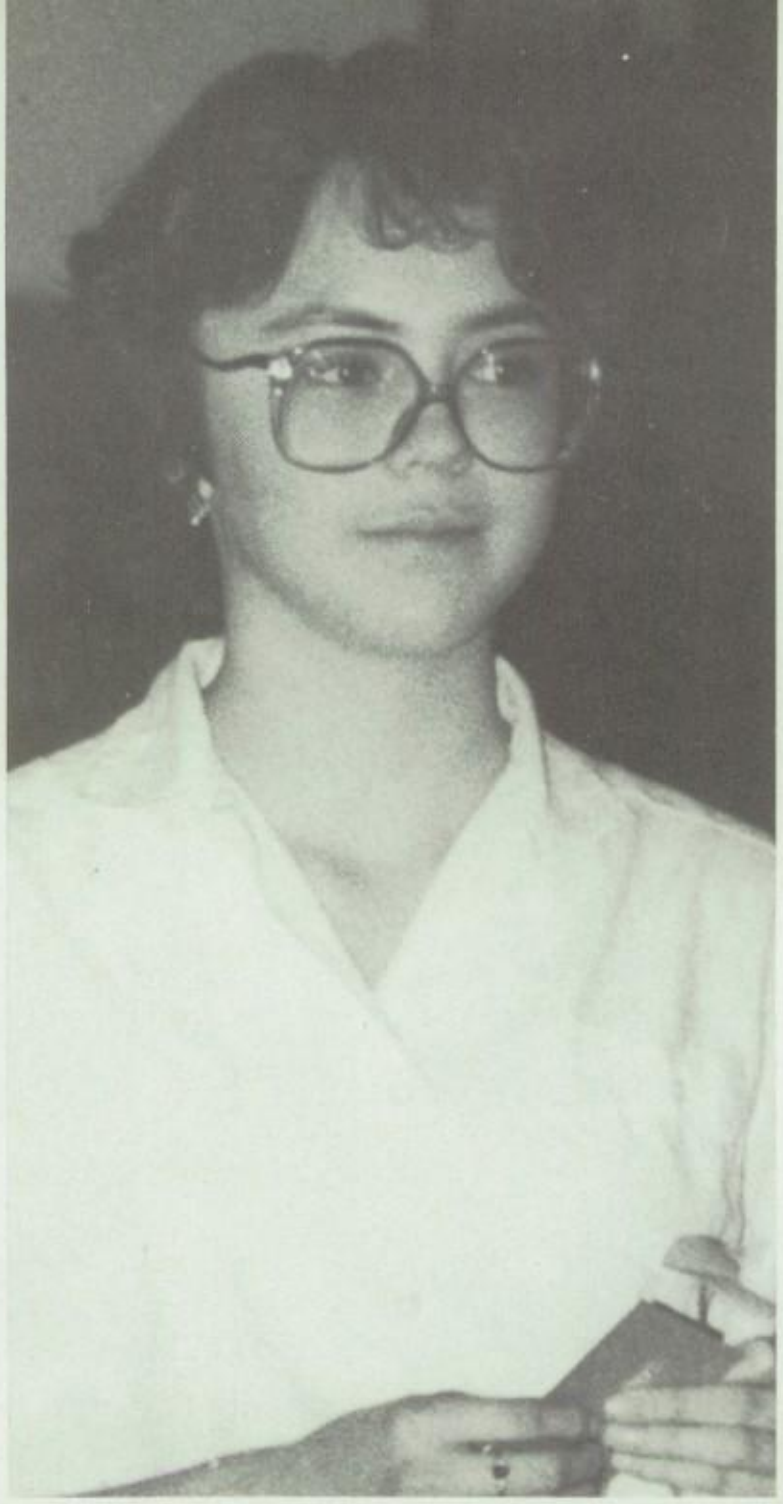
PRANCING

ROMANCING

Mother, Daughter Tea

Seniors Follow Holy Names Tradition to a T-ea

Daintily sipping tea, the Seniors reminised over the past four years, realizing how far they had come and how much they benefited from their mothers' care and support. Andrece Housley posed with her mother before a warm Christmas background, as Deitric Taliaferro finished pinning a corsage on her mother. Julie Kendall and her mom shared a special moment. Carla Kelly introduced her mom to her friends while Tanya Cagnolatti, Michele Dawson, and Lena Trotter shared the latest news. Sr. Margaret enjoyed the opportunity to get to know the moms.



CHEERS

The student body sat in complete silence as they watched the Junior class enter the auditorium by candlelight to begin their treasured Ring Ceremony. Sister Kathryn Ondreyco honored the Juniors with a heartwarming speech for the wonderful occasion after which everyone listened while Monsignor Moran blessed the rings. Finally, the long awaited moment had arrived. One by one the members of the Junior class processed onto the stage where they received their rings with congratulations from Sisters Kathryn Ondreyco and Margaret Spiller. Once everyone had received their rings and flowers, LaWana Johnson, Junior Class President, addressed her fellow classmates and Diane Fleury read a poem by Lonnie Spiller, '86, which warmed the hearts of all. In the final moments of their ceremony, the Juniors, with candles in hand, paraded out of the auditorium filling the second floor hall with their joy and beginning the ritual of turning each ring on each finger 86 times. The Juniors were officially launched!

Jennifer Leonard, '86, confidently receives her ring. Monique Richards, '86, is happily greeted by a flower and her beloved ring. Lawana Johnson and Diane Fleury, '86, are knee deep in pink carnations.

Junior Ring Ceremony-October 30, 1984.

Dana Thomas, '86, attempts to turn a buddy's ring. How many turns did that make, Dana? Carma Carden and Lori Broom, '86, take time out for a "pic" after the ceremony. Juniors enthusiastically flash their rocks.

A LOOK BEHIND THE SCENES

ECHOES

Editor Colleen Lucas instructs the staff on the fundamentals of Yearbook Production. A look inside at the members of the staff.

On Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, while most students were climbing on a bus or into a boyfriend's car, the dedicated members of the yearbook staff plodded up to the art room for another meeting. Layouts, typesheets, pictures, and of course DEADLINES became vernacular as they walked, talked, and lived yearbook. Led by editor Colleen Lucas, co-editor Dolores Ferrero, and moderator Carol Larkin, they strove to produce the book. Stated Colleen, "Each member of the staff contributed her unique talents to the book."

The staff—Sonia Soto, Colleen Lucas, Wilma Rodeen, Petria Tucker, Tracey Lun, Delia Nakayama, Donna Pennie, Lisa Carlund, Lauri Wong, Julie Yu, Suzanne DeForce, Dolores Ferrero, Christine Parodi, Jamie Reed-Sutton, and Robin Braga.

Christine Parodi and Dolores Ferrero become familiar with the typewriter. Layout artists Donna Pennie, Wilma Rodeen, Suzanne DeForce, and Tracey Lun pose for the camera. Sonia Soto sorts through the files AGAIN! Ms. Larkin spends all her waking hours thinking yearbook. Photographers Lisa Carlund and Lauri Wong take a short break. Julie Yu salutes to a wonderful yearbook.

Hi Stacy
How's it going today?
U miss us yet? You're always fun at Holy Names too. Gross picture huh? Well what can I say
I'm not photogenic! Ugh look, Goo oriental I can't stand it!

The 1984-85 fashion revolution was influenced by Prince and his hit movie Purple Rain. He knocked Thriller out of the picture and went crazy with lace, rhinestones, and single hoop earrings. HNH also enjoyed such accessories as gloves, bracelets, and scarves. These set off the uniform and short Wednesdays of oversized Guess clothes. Many also tried to modernize the plaid with forbidden thermal. HNH brightened the year with neon, and swatches proved to be on time in the fashion scene.

While Prince made hits of such songs as Purple Rain and When Doves Cry, other artists made it big as well. Some top songs included Wild Boys by Duran Duran, Like a Virgin by Madonna, Born in the U.S.A. by Bruce Springsteen, and The Glamorous Life by Sheila E. Perhaps the most memorable song appeared at Christmas; Feed the World was a collaboration by such artists as Wham and Duran Duran, and all the proceeds went to starving children in Ethiopia. All in all, '84-'85 was a great year for music.

"Is school getting you down?"Do you need help with homework?" "Are you drowning?" — Plastered throughout the school, posters bearing these slogans offered students "academic aid." The Peer Counseling group offered their skills to any student and their combination of patience, understanding, and knowledge almost always paid off. Besides the traditional one-on-one tutoring, a new service was offered-consisting of groups of students working together to study difficult subjects of mutual concern such as Advanced Math or Physics. The Peer Counseling group was one of the most popular and successful newcomers to the Campus.

THE PEER COUNSELORS

Tamika Guiton, '87, takes a break from the meeting to have a snack. Kristie Wollitz, '86, works dilligently. Reggie Jackson, '88, makes herself comfortable before the meeting. With a friendly smile, Stacey Harmon, '86, is ready and willing to help.

THE FINISH LINE

An energetic group consisting of Lori Broom, Linda Gibbons, Jennifer Leonard, Andrea Lui, Jamie Reed-Sutton, '86, Kristen Geddry, Grace Wurst, '87, Eileen Pippins and Tiffany Stephens, formed the HNH track they dug out their running shoes, stretched into shape, setting out to conquer the hills. Coach Ron Twomey was resourceful in the rains, having the team run stairs and hurdle in the hall. They ran to win!

1. Eileen Pippins, '88, hurls her best shot. 2. Andrea Lui, '86, gives it her all. 3. Sophomore Kristen Geddry pushes herself to the limit in the one mile. 4. Getting her hands on the baton, Lori Broom, '86, begins the second leg of the 400 relay at full speed. 5. Aside from the fact that Kilean Mullins, '86, does not have shoes, she lets the shotput fly.

From Cyndi Lauper to the Time, from Billie Holliday to Prince and the Revolution, from Tina Turner to our own Holy Names Dancers, the cast of the Senior Talent Show captivated, delighted, and motivated the receptive audience on the night of March 22, 1985. The night promised to be a success weeks in advance. The auditions committee spent an entire afternoon (and a good part of the evening) reviewing the many acts. After the chosen acts were posted, many lunch periods were spent practicing, polishing up, and perfecting routines. Publicity was excellent, as both Holy Names and St. Mary's were sold out two days in advance, at which time the scalping began. On March 22, many eager, enthusiastic, and slightly chilly students, parents, and friends stood on the front drive awaiting the opening of the doors. M.C.'s Suzanne Bontempo and Sharon Davis, '85, began the evening promptly at 8:00, and the show proceeded without a hitch. It was, indeed, their night, a night that will not be soon forgotten.

1. "What time is it!?" Myla Branche, '86, delights the audience with her interpretation of Morris Day. 2. Bopping forever, Eugena Gordon, '85, does a fine imitation of the one and only Cyndi Lauper. 3. "I'll be your private dancer," promises Donzell Dean, '85, truly capturing the essence of Tina Turner. 4. Last but certainly not least, Shellae Ruffin, '86, performs as Prince, driving the audience crazy. 5. Linda Aumua, '85, fascinates the audience with her Kuuipo dance. 6. Mary Campbell, '86, struts her stuff as a member of the Time. 7. Tranishia Gholston, '86, holds the audience in awe with her tribute to Billie Holliday.

This is... OUR NIGHT

1. Dreaming sweet dreams, Stefania Von Gortler leans on her boyfriend for support. 2. All decked out, Fatima Washington and her date are ready for a memorable evening. 3. Taking time from the dance floor, Dhanyale Dunbar and Cheryl Hoffman pose for the photographer. 4. Jody Alexander and her date pose for the camera. 5. Cute couple—Shellae Ruffin and her date enjoy their evening.

. . . are made of this. It was a night they had dreamed of forever, a night they will remember for a long time to come. May 10, 1985, was the Holy Names—St. Mary's Junior Prom. After searching for the perfect dress (and the perfect date), the time had finally arrived. Decorated in pink and gray, the Willow Park Country Club came alive at 9:00 as it was flooded by swarms of Juniors and their dates. The night ended much too soon, but memories of corsages, bids, and sweet dreams will never die.

SWEET DREAMS . . .

6. Living a dream, Alyx Pitts and her date dance the night away. 7. Estelle Clemons poses for a picture with her boyfriend. 8. Shawn Dawson's date whispers sweet nothings as the night goes on.

1. All smiles, Carole Gordon, and her date acknowledge the camera. 2. Kelli Anderson snuggles close. 3. Andrece Houseley dances the night away. 4. Karen DeForce and her date enjoy a moment to themselves. 5. Truly elegant in '85 is Dietric Taliaferro.

The Last Dance

The Senior Ball

A pressed flower, a battered bid, a polariod picture, all tucked away . . . memories of the May 24, 1985 Senior Ball. Many months were spent preparing for this night, which, for many, would be one of the most memorable nights of their Senior year. Committees were formed, ideas were explored, all with one goal: the best Senior Ball ever. After spending the traditional Senior Cut Day with hairstylists, manicurists, and dress makers, transformed young ladies began their long awaited night at San Francisco's famed St. Francis Hotel. The theme, Elegance in '85, was carried out in the decor as well as the aura of the Seniors themselves. The night was more than a success; it was the beginning of a treasured memory.

6. Ingrid Byias is lost in her slow dance. 7. Linda Aumua, Melissa Albert, and their dates enjoy their Senior Ball. 8. Rosanna Messina rests wrapped in the arms of her date.

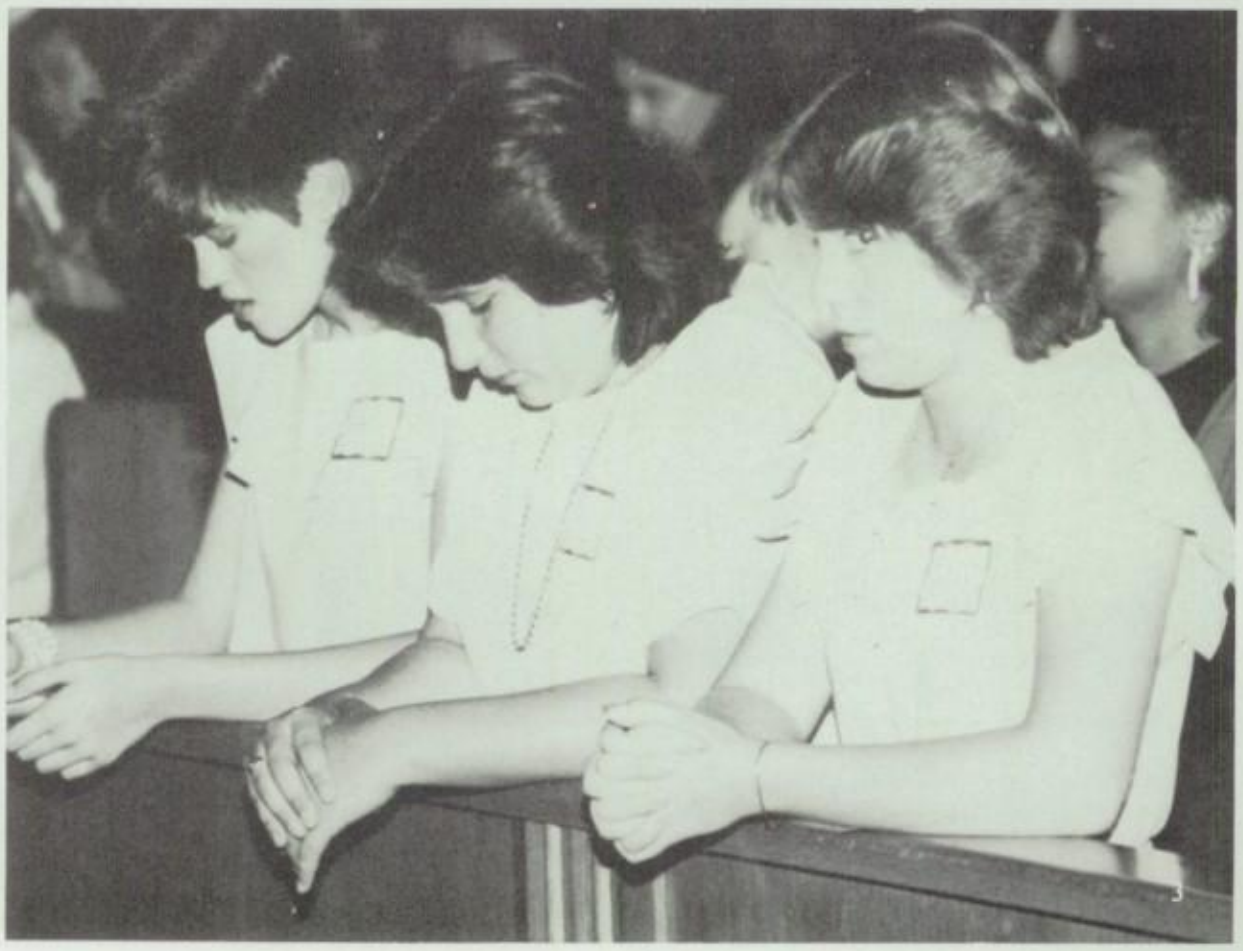
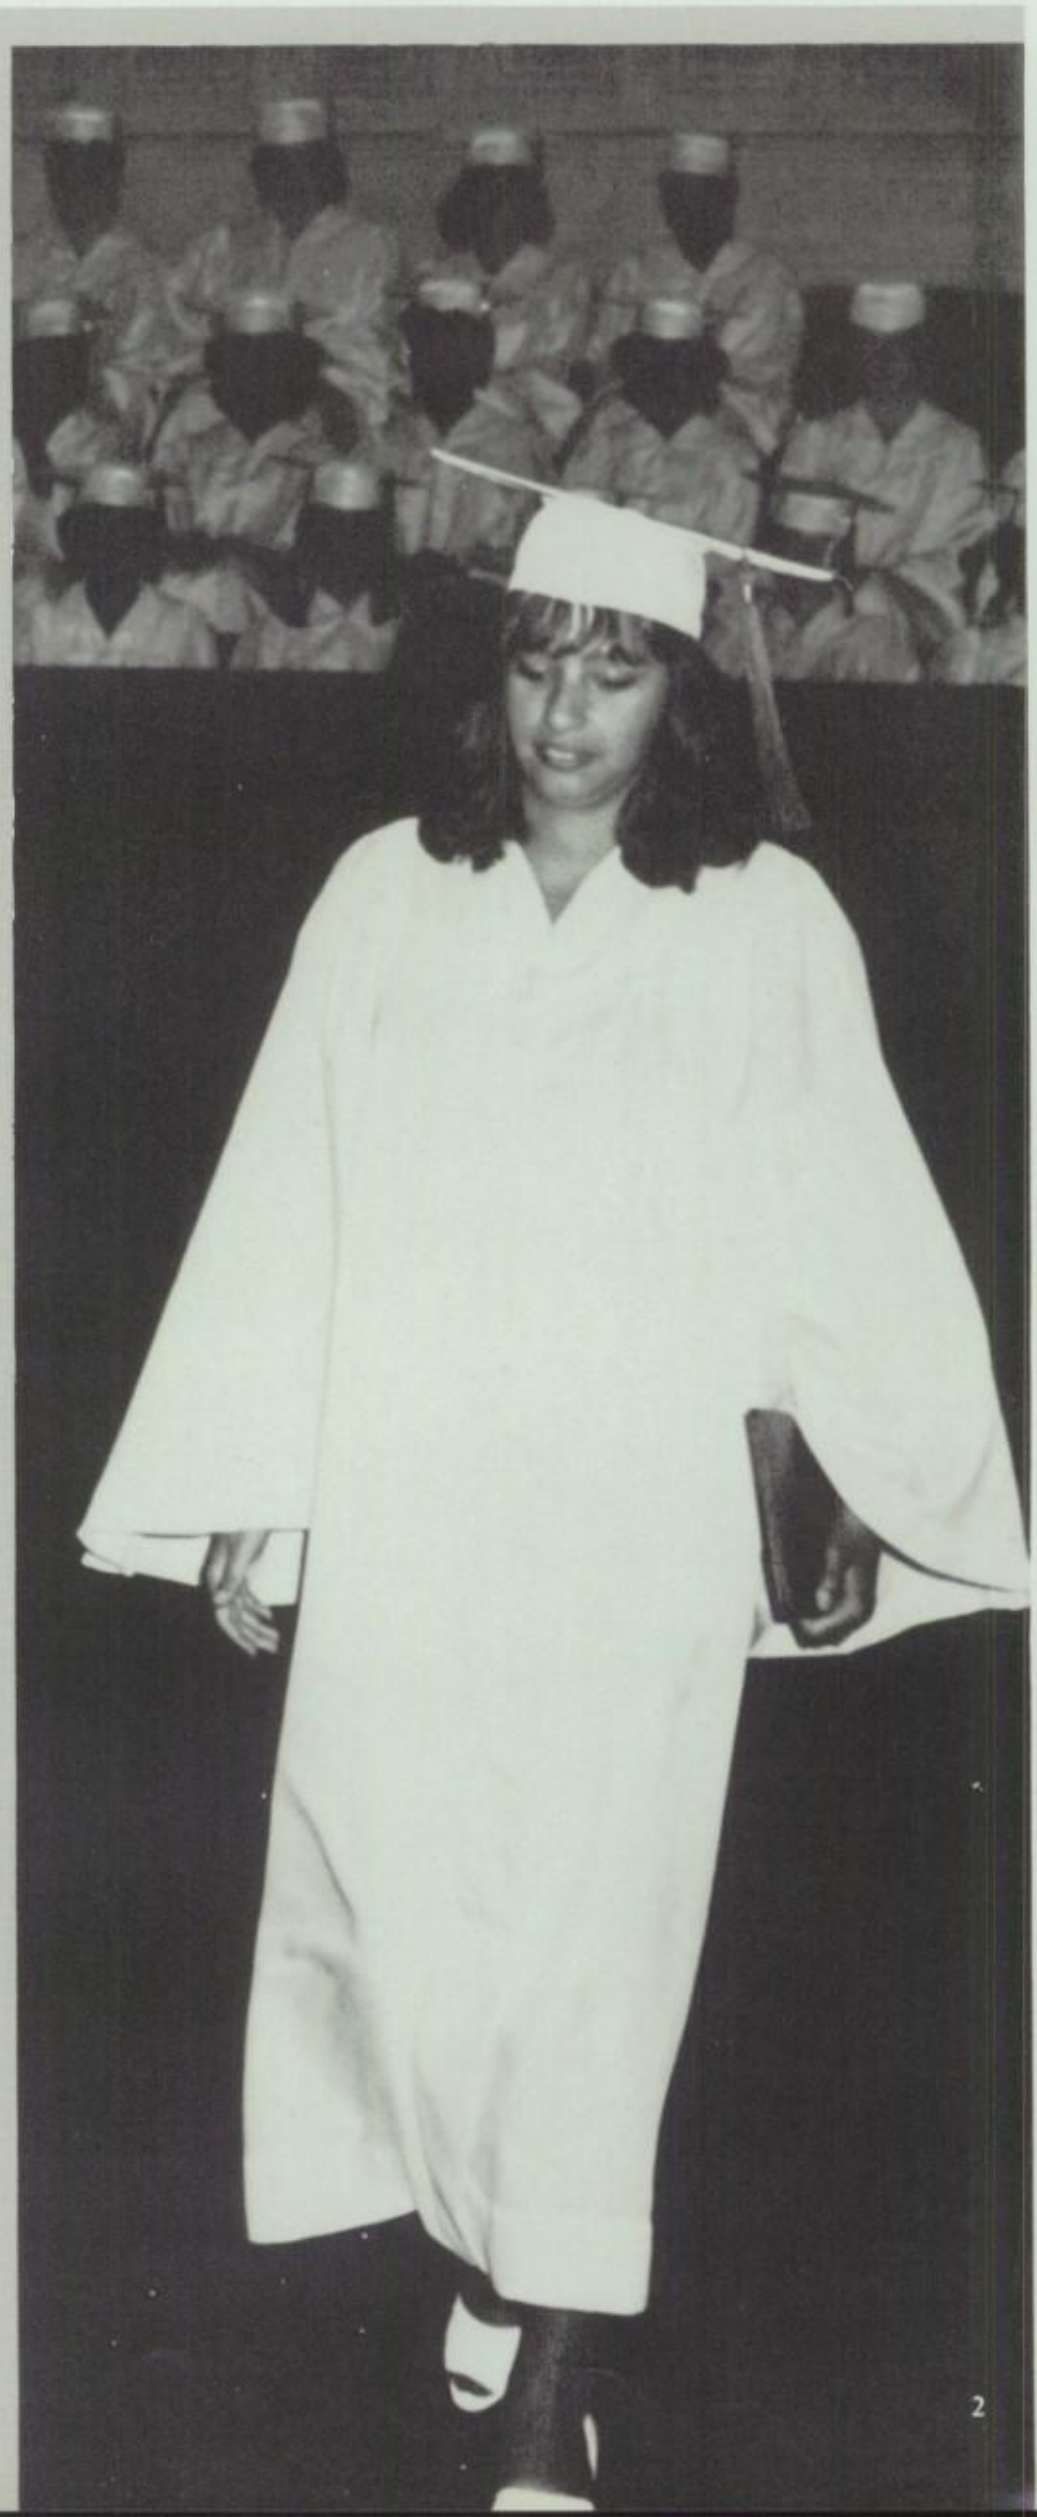
Times of Change

On the evening of June 13, the Seniors held the traditional Baccalaureate Mass. The graduating class happily coordinated this celebration, which was one of their ways to say farewell to Holy Names. With their loved ones looking on, the members of the class of '85, proceeded up St. Theresa's aisle. Throughout the mass, the seniors were addressed by several speakers, including classmate Jaynie Hash. These speakers talked about the theme of the mass: "Times of Change," and its meaning, and they also discussed the possibilities for the future. The mass ended with a farewell, and a wish of good luck was proudly given to the graduating young women of Holy Names.

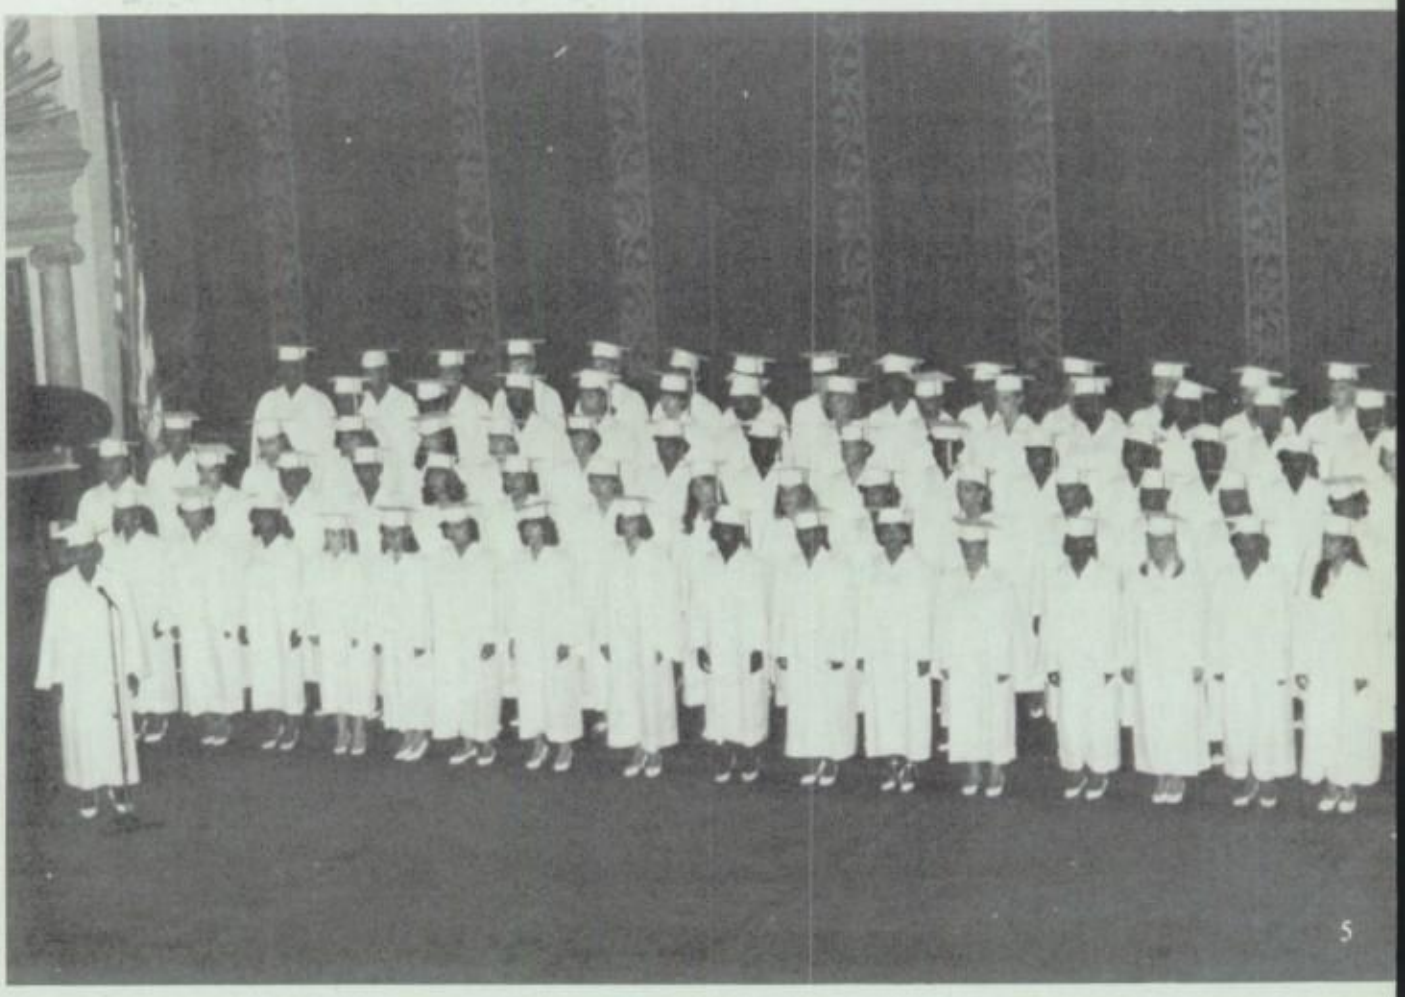


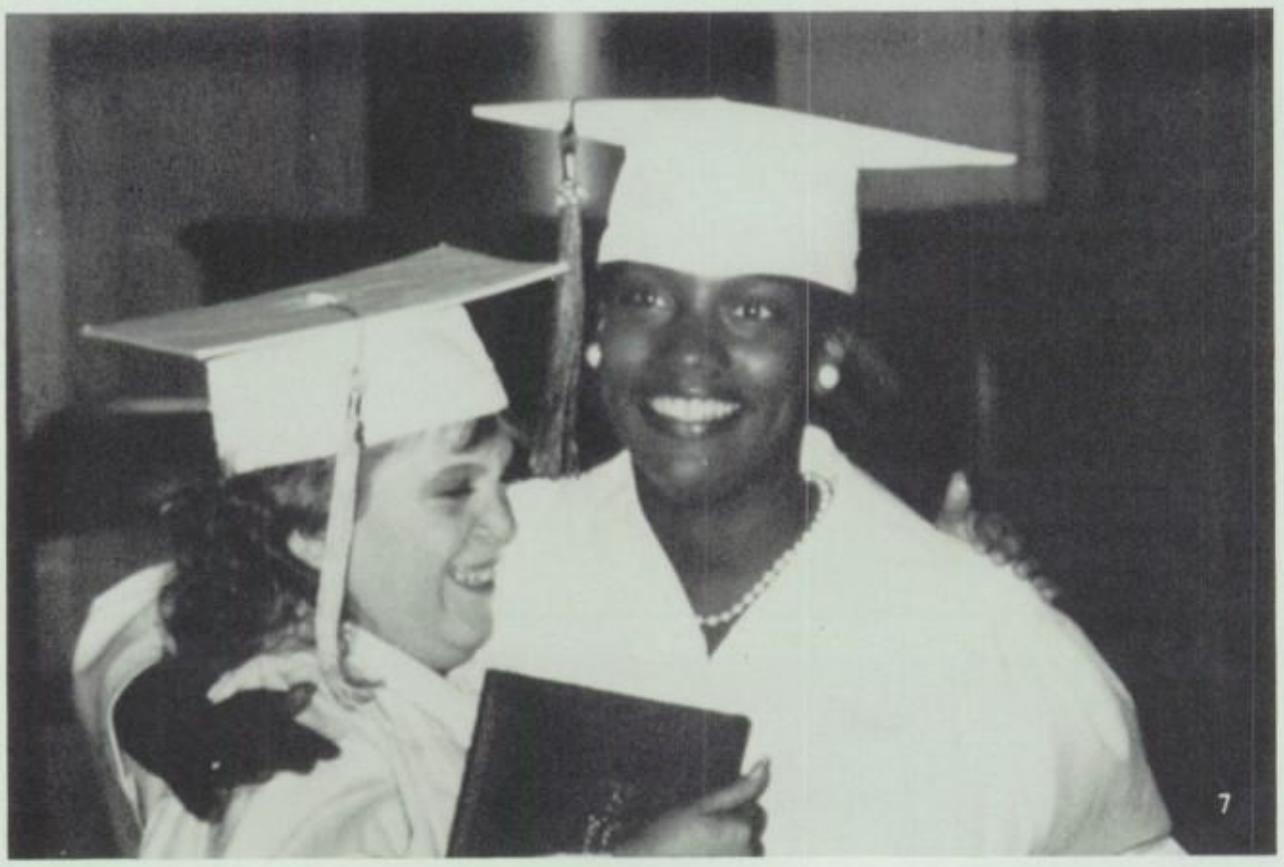
1. Having presented her offertory gift, Donna Pennie returns to her seat. 2. The class of '85, along with family and friends, bids fond farewell to Holy Names in their Baccalaureate celebration. 3. Deep in prayer, Lisa Carlund, Jaynie Hash, and Nancy Leard pray for a successful graduation ceremony. 4. Jill Hazelhofer, Tricia Rogers, Lisa Groningen, and Deanne O'Berto listen intently to Father Genovese's Gospel. 5. Linda Vergil is concentrating deeply on Tonya Cameron's solo to "Amazing Grace." 6. Petitioning to God, Alberta Cashen thanks parents, teachers, and friends for their input, and prays for success for the class of '85.

Arise, Go Forth, & Conquer



1. Preparing to turn their tassles, the graduates rise. 2. Having received her diploma, Tricia Rogers returns to her seat. 3. Sara Richie proudly accepts her diploma. 4. Christine Kwok receives her diploma from Sr. Kathryn, aided by Terry Prior, '88. 5. The class of '85 sings the class song, "Times of Change" with pride and enthusiasm. 6. Graduates Jo Edwards and Anarea Bird are more than ready to go forth and conquer. 7. Julie Nielsen and Dolores Blackman congratulate each other on a job well done.





June 14, 1985-The day each Senior anticipated, dreamed of, and dreaded at least once during her Senior year, had finally arrived. The scene was the Scottish Rite Temple, where family and friends waited eagerly in the balcony as the class made its enterance to the traditional Pomp and Circumstance. After singing the class song, "Times of Change," written by former classmate Nikki Bias, with a solo by Trina Johnson, the class listened to such speakers as Donna Duhe, '74, Nancy Boas, and Tammy Hill, '85, who reflected on the past and looked forward to the future. Finally, it was time for the conferring of the diplomas and the turning of the tassles. After singing the Alma Mater, the Seniors, correction, Graduates, began the recessional, as they prepared to Arise, Go Forth, and Conquer.

Academic Heights

The members of the year's CSF consisted of Sally Basurto, Lisa Carlund, Michele Dawson, Robin Jordan, Julie Kendall, Christine Kwok, Therese Lee, Julie Nielsen, Wilma Rodeen, '85, Tamara Ali, Kathleen Arata, Marrianne Avila, LaDella Brown, Elizabeth Bura, Karen Coleman, Denise Cruise, Shawn Dawson, Suzanne DeForce, Jackie Deschaine, Dhanyale Dunbar, Dolores Ferrero, Julie Hackett, Stacey Harmon, LaWana Johnson, Julia Melancon, Sarah Messer, Michelle Randolph, Jamie Reed-Sutton, Sharon Spier, Fatima Washington, Marcella Wright, Kristie Wollitz, Angela Ysunza, '86, Marea Battle, Shelly Braga, Mary Beth Campbell, Mary Ann Evia, Leslie Green, Tamika Guiton, Minh Ha Hoang, Shirleen Lee, Suzanne Moreno, Patsy Soon, Maria Tabada, Cydia Taylor, Samantha Thomas, Liz Varela, '87, Fatima Brunson, Tammikka Chambers, Sueling Chan, Marcela Gateb, Goretti Heinz, Mai Hoang, Teresa Prior, Julie Pugliesi, Carrie Romero, Pamela Soon, Sheila Van Pelt, and Sarah Varela, '88. The NHS included Carla Bracciotti, Lisa Carlund, Suzie Chiarenza, Robin Jordan, Julie Kendall, Colleen Lucas, Julie Nielson, Donna Pennie, Wilma Rodeen, '85, Marianne Avila, LaDella Brown, Shawn Dawson, Suzanne DeForce, Jackie Deschaine, Dolores Ferrero, Tranishia Gholston, LaWana Johnson, Joanna McKenna, Sarah Messer, Kristie Wollitz, Lauri Wong, Marcella Wright, Angela Ysunza, '86, Mary Ann Evia, Patsy Soon, and Liz Varela, '87. Hey Sta Sta,

How are you doing this I hope. Well like I have become close in our junior year and hopefully we will be closer in our Senior year. Thank you for helping me through my problems with J.B., Hopefully we some great times together before we some things out. we will definitely share Names and depart each other to college. I am always there during the summer. I be Seniors in 3 weeks and the will be together during the decided to come back to #1 with because I would have done without you. You are always there for me. maybe I need you and I wont give us any trouble, but you are deserve the best

Hey Stacey,

So what's been up girl? I haven't seen you in so long ☺ I remember when we were still in elementary school at St Josephs. Those were the good old days. Now you're all grown up and about to enter your last year of high school. Well Stacey I'd like to wish you the best of luck in your senior year at HNHS.

Take Care.
Class of '80
